

Casting Begins for Pageant Tracing Granite City's 75-Year History

Some movies claim "a cast of thousands." The Granite City Diamond Jubilee pageant — for which casting began last night and will continue Monday night — is not far behind. Its cast will include nearly half a thousand—454 actors, to be exact.

"Profiles in Progress" will be presented for six performances at the Wilson Park softball diamond, where extra stands will be provided for the audience.

The play will be given at 8:45 on six consecutive nights — from Monday, Aug. 23, through Saturday, Aug. 28. If a performance is rained out, it will be presented on Sunday evening, Aug. 29.

A special script has been written to tell the 75-year history of Granite City. A prologue will be followed by ten episodes.

The prologue is to include 24 Cub Scouts, 24 Boy Scouts, 24 Brownies, 24 Girl Scouts, eight majorities and eight cadets—a total of 112.

Episode One, "Our Story Begins," includes a cast of 24 Indians and one "bad man," while "A Time of Settlement" will feature 20 pioneer men, 20 pioneer women, 10 pioneer children and "Governor Harrison."

"School Days," the third episode, has a cast of 15 school boys, 15 school girls, a teacher and 13 "perfect young ladies."

Next will be "Amazing

Grace," with a circuit-riding minister and the entire pageant cast.

"A Man Called Lincoln" is the fifth episode, bringing to the stage area 26 old-fashioned men, 26 old-fashioned women, 10 old-fashioned children and six Yankee soldiers.

Episode Six, "Building Tomorrow," includes 26 "gay '90s" men, 26 "gay '90s" women, 10 "gay '90s" children, eight "bathing beauties" and four firemen.

"The 20th Century" will include the same "gay '90s" group — a little older by then — and two airplane men, a newsboy, four soldiers and a bugler.

The eighth episode, "A Time for Frantic Fun," is to feature 15 Charleston men, 15 Charleston women and six Works Progress Administration workers.

No details have been announced on the ninth episode. The tenth, "A Youthful Change," will spotlight 15 teenage boys, 15 teenage girls, three "specials" and the entire cast.

Barry Loman is general chairman of the Diamond Jubilee, which will start Saturday, Aug. 21. Robert McCrary is pageant director.

"At last night's casting meeting held at the Elks Lodge, the turnout was fine," Loman reports. "A number of Granite City organizations sent representatives, and even some from Madison want to join in the fun."

"Some parts are still not cast and will be available to whom ever can supply the amount of people needed."

"Among others, the parts we need to fill list are 15 Charleston men."

"We have the Charleston women, but the men will need to be cast before rehearsals start. We also need pioneer men and women, Girl Scouts, teenage girls and boys and Indians."

"And, some principal roles are still open," Loman related.

"There will be auditions for the roles of narrators for the pageant at 8:30 p.m. Monday at the Wilson Park ice skating rink."

"A complete cast meeting will start at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the ice rink. Everyone who wishes to be in the cast grouping will receive a rehearsal schedule Monday night."

"Anyone wishing to join the cast may call 877-8257 for further information."

GC Street Contracts Awarded

Contracts totaling $235,460 for three Granite City street improvement projects were awarded by the city council in meeting Monday night.

All three improvements are for fuel tax projects for which plans, specifications and MFT financing have been approved by the Illinois Division of Highways.

All three contracts were awarded on a low-bid basis and will provide bituminous resurfacing, curb and guttering and drainage.

A contract for improvement of Palmer Avenue from Nemo-oki Drive to Garden Drive was awarded to A.H. Seebold & Co. on a low bid of $99,857. Other bidders were G.H. Sternberg Co., $107,491, and the Thacker Construction Co., $165,639.

G.H. Sternberg Co. was awarded a contract for improvement of Michigan Avenue from Troy Street to St. James Ave. on a low bid of $26,500. Only other bidder was A.H. Seebold Co. at $28,667.

Contract for improvement of Warren Avenue from Faith Drive to St. Clair Avenue was awarded the Sternberg Co. on a bid of $109,103. Other bids on this project were $116,519 by the Seebold firm, and $139,335 by Thacker Construction Co.

Watchman Struck, Shot in Burglary

James Meyerhoff, 70, of 1605 Courtney Blvd., a watchman at the Marco Polo Lounge on Route 162 at Eduardo Drive, was struck on the head with a hammer and shot in the abdomen in a burglary at about 3 a.m. today.

He was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was admitted to the intensive care unit and submitted to surgery.

Madison County sheriff's deputies reported that two men entered the lounge by prying the west side door, walked into a back room and found Meyerhoff lying on a bed listening to a radio. After the attack, they took the victim's wallet containing $11. An investigation is underway.

GC Budget at $3.8 Million; Fringe Benefits an Issue

Action on a revised budget proposal designed to reduce the amount of an earlier appropriation bill, the Granite City Council Monday night approved an all-time record high budget of $3,819,000 or $6,060 more than the original figure that had been protested as being too high.

The new budget is $621,784 more than last year's appropriation of $3,198,019 and $340,650 higher than a budget proposed early this year by Mayor Donald Partney.

Adoption of the 1971-72 appropriation measure followed a lengthy debate in which a council bloc spearheaded by Alderman Walter Nann restored a $100,000 item in the street department budget for acquiring land and constructing a new street department garage.

In the same action, Nann moved, however, to restore $1-

500 that had been cut out by the Finance Committee for purchase of a second tailgate spreader and failed to win approval for an additional $2,500 for purchase of a new pickup truck.

Baker, Nann Clash

Alderman Thomas A. Baker, chairman of the Finance Committee, clashed repeatedly with Nann in the budget discussion, while Alderman Sam Whitmer protested approval of agreements worked out by the council's Special Negotiating Committee, of which Baker also is chairman.

Action on the package of fringe benefits for union employees preceded consideration of the budget. The agreements were approved by an 8 to 4 roll call vote after Baker and Alderman Paul Schuler — as members of the negotiation committee—rejected a suggestion to consider the agreements

Citizens Urged to Join 1st Downtown Promenade

How long has it been since you've brought the family downtown for a leisurely stroll through the business section, watched the antics of a Keystone Kop or observed de jure court proceedings, presided over by a "hanging judge?"

If it has been some time ago, promoters of the Granite City Diamond Jubilee celebration invite your participation tomorrow evening in the first of four "Friday Night Promenades" in downtown Granite City.

Successive promenades will take place next Friday, July 23, and on Friday, Aug. 6 and Aug. 13. The promenades will originate from the Granite City Trust Bank parking area with promenaders to convene at that location by 7:30 p.m. on each Friday, according to Mrs. Marge Hall, a Jubilee Belle official.

Old-time clothing will be the fashion mode of attire and everybody, whether dressed in appropriate costume or not, is advised to wear a Jubilee participation pin, Mrs. Hall noted.

Immediately following the downtown stroll, a "Kanaproot Court" will be convened at Civic Park on the 1300 block of Niederrheins Avenue.

The court, legally constituted by the community's 75th Anniversary officials, will be conducted by "Judge" William Johnson, known informally as the "hanging judge."

Mrs. Hall said culprits arrested and brought before the judge for sentencing will be persons found in the area who are not wearing a Jubilee participation pin.

The local DeMolay Chapter will furnish a folk band to add music to the proceedings and a lively time is anticipated, the Jubilee organizers promised, urging all area residents "to come out and have fun at the promenade."

Clothing and other items contemporary to the early years of Granite City are offered for sale at the Jubilee General Store, located at 1930 Edison Ave.

The store is operated by a volunteer committee between the hours of 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily and from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Fridays.

Ebersoldt Voids Use of Rubber Stamp Signatures

A longtime practice of using rubber stamps to place signatures on checks issued by the East Side Levee and Sanitary District in payment of payrolls and claims was abolished yesterday by order of William "Miler" Ebersoldt of Venice, newly elected president of the district.

Ebersoldt pledged "a completely new fiscal policy" in an effort to straighten out the district's mounting problems following his election as board president last week, put the new policy into effect yesterday when he called Thomas Staicoft, Pontoon Beach village board president and treasurer of the levee district, to the levee district offices in East St. Louis to prepare checks to meet a payroll Monday.

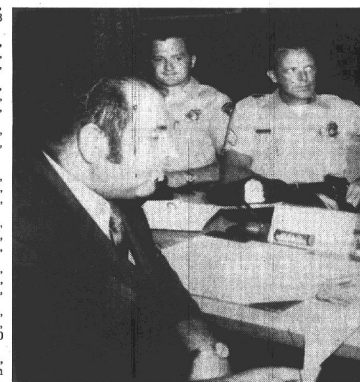

Ebersoldt, Staicoft and Chief Clerk Ben Campbell signed the checks personally for a $35,000 payroll that was approved by the levee board in the special meeting at which Ebersoldt was elected.

"I have never gone along with the policy of using rubber stamps on checks," Ebersoldt said, adding that "so long as I am president, the clerk, the treasurer and myself will personally sign the checks."

At the same time, Ebersoldt announced a new policy of requiring a requisition approved by himself, the clerk or the treasurer to be attached to the checks.

Madison Police Report Shows Vast Improvement; Changes Suggested

Further reorganization of the Madison Police Department was suggested by Chief of Police Frank Dutko in his semi-annual report to the city council Tuesday night.

Dutko cited changes that already have been made in the department as having been responsible for a drop in the number of crimes in the city, and an increase in the number of crimes solved in the first six months of the year, and suggested that further changes should be considered, including the creation of a full-time juvenile department.

"With the addition of a full-time juvenile division soon to be made possible by the city administration and the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission, we expect an even greater reduction in crimes committed by youths and a higher clearance rate on crime committed by youthful offenders," the report stated.

Dutko said in the report that the current trend in the department was to increase efficiency and that a considerable reduction in the number of crimes committed in the city could be attributed to four things: closer supervision of personnel, the use of one-man patrol units rather than the two-man units previously used, the policy of keeping one unit on the street at all times, and overlapping shifts during peak crime hours.

Dutko also pointed out in the report that a significant increase in the number of crimes cleared by arrest could be attributed to the organization of the department into two full-time units, patrol and investigation.

"The soon to be established pay incentive program" providing for additional pay for college credits pertaining to law enforcement, made possible by the city administration, also will aid in the reduction of crime in the city," the report stated.

Statistics included in the report showed that 392 crimes were committed in the first half of 1970 and a decline to only 267 crimes through June 1971, a 32% reduction in crime. It was pointed out that crime in small cities rose nationally an average of 14% from 1969-1970, according to Federal Bureau of Investigation statistics. The report said that only 18.9% of crimes committed in Madison in the first half of 1970 were cleared by arrests while the percentage rose to 48.7% this year. The national average is only 20%.

The statistics also show that 130 cases were cleared by arrest through June of this year while only 74 ended in arrest during the first half of 1970. Robbery, assault, burglary, theft and auto theft involved increased arrests in 1970 while no rape or criminal homicide cases were reported.

It also was reported that from a $13,333 "Action Now Project" state grant, $11,884 has been spent for police equipment in the first half of this year, including squad car, field and office equipment.

Mayor Sasyk remarked to the council, "We promised the people we would upgrade our police department and we did. When we get our juvenile department straightened out, I hope we'll do even better. I think our police department is doing well. I think our officers also should be commended." The Mayor declined to name

Granite City to Fight IPC Rate Increase

City Attorney Leon Scroggins was authorized by the city council Monday night to represent Granite City at Illinois Commerce Commission hearings on a petition by the Illinois Power Co. for an increase in electric power rates.

The council also approved a motion that Granite City file objections to the petition.

The action followed a notice that the first hearing on the petition will be held Aug. 12 at 9:30 a.m. in the ICC offices of the State Office Building in Springfield.

Several aldermen have urged reopening of the city's franchise with the power company if a rate increase is granted. Scroggins was instructed to check the current franchise to determine if it is possible to legally to reopen it at this time.

When he plans to appoint as fulltime juvenile officer at the next meeting but indicated William Fanning, the present juvenile officer, was being considered. He said the idea of a full-time department to deal with youth was still being considered. He said he feels that it would be a good step and if proposed, both a head officer and assistant would be named.

Title I Grant Of $178,690 to Be Sought by GC

The Granite City School District administration was authorized to file application for a federal Title I grant for a total of $178,690 to provide for continuation of a present program during a meeting of the Board of Education Monday night.

The program offers remedial reading, pre-school classes, counseling services and nursing services at McKinley, Webster, Washington and Logan Schools as the centers.

The initial grant of $140 per eligible child will completely cover costs, according to Dale C. Rea, assistant to the superintendent. The number of eligible children has been increased from 932 last year to 1,280 for the 1971-72 school year, he reported.

It is probable that additional funds will be made available later in the year when a final allocation is made. Rea said.

To be submitted with the application is a new comparability report to show that Title I funds represent additional expenditures in target areas rather than replacing local expenditures. Rea said.

In other business the board:

Madison Council Calls Bids on New Police Cars

The Madison City Council voted Tuesday night to advertise for bids for two new police cars, one for fulltime use by Paul Barger, police officer, and one for a fulltime juvenile officer who will be appointed at the council's next regular meeting.

The unmarked cars will be purchased under a state grant at no cost to the city. The grant was set by the council and the nomination was confirmed unanimously.

The council approved a revised application for its phase of a joint Venice-Madison home development program which was submitted to the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), but which was rejected with revisions suggested. Alderman Dick Kismser submitted the revised document to the council commenting, "I hope they like it. There's a lot of paper work there."

Program Unchanged Mayor Sasyk said the revised workable program which will be resubmitted to HUD, basically is the same as the old document. "The main changes are in wording and minor matters, but the scope is unchanged," he said.

The plan calls for the building of new homes in spot locations replacing homes condemned and razed, rather than a major urban renewal program in which complete sections of the city are razed for new projects. If approved the city would be certified by HUD for the program and future projects for which the city may apply.

Relief for the city recreation department was granted as $4,000 was transferred from the General Fund to the Recreation Fund pending the recreation department's receipt of tax funds. Alderman Ray Kozielek suggested that a "serious traffic situation" existed on 10th Street

Adult Education Tuition Fees Hiked $2-$32

Increases in tuition fees ranging from $2 to $32 for adult education courses to be offered at Granite City High School this year were approved by the Board of Education Monday night.

The increases were proposed by M. A. Wittevrang, administrative assistant for vocational, technical and adult education, because of a reduction of funds provided by the federal and state governments.

The highest increase of $32 is for driver training, necessitated by the withdrawal of state reimbursement for the purpose, Wittevrang said. The fee now will be $32, the highest in the adult program.

Being removed from the program is the art course which has not been self-sustaining, the director said.

Program Reviewed
In a review of the adult program, Wittevrang noted that the school district "has for many years had a policy of providing a quality program in adult education."

"The three main objectives of the program are to provide basic education for adults, to occasionally related instructions for adults and to provide organized instruction to supplement on-the-job training for apprentices or other adult learners."

He said that direct costs as teacher salaries and supplies have been financed by governmental reimbursement and/or individual fees or direct billing of organizations being served.

A new state plan adopted in 1969 reduced salary reimbursements from 60% to less than 50% of the original estimates on salaries and supplies he said.

Sample letters explaining the program of offerings for the fall term are being forwarded to local industry for the benefit of their employees.

The terms range from 12 to 18 weeks for the fall semester, which will begin on Sept. 7. Registration will be Aug. 30, 31, Sept. 1 and 2. The courses and fees follow:

General—Blueprint reading I, $18; blueprint reading II, $18; industrial math, $16. Electrical—D.C. electricity I, $22; A.C. electricity I, $22; electrical control systems I, $22; air conditioning, $20.

Mechanical—Pipelining I, $18; sheet metal layout, $25; machine shop, $22; welding-section A, $40; welding-section B, $40; bell-art welding, $35. Mechanical—Industrial mechanics, $25.

Educational development—G.E.D. refresher-general, $30; English as a second language, $10. Vocational-driver training, $32.

Home-making—Typing I—beginning, $12; typing II, intermediate, $12; typing III—business letter writing, $12; steno I—beginning, $12; steno II, intermediate, $12; steno III—advanced, $12; bookkeeping—beginning and advanced office machines, $20.

Data processing—Basic machine operation, $20; basic machine operation B, $20 and advanced machine operation, $20.

GENE H. STERNBERG

Gene H. Sternberg, 2823 Cleveland Blvd., has been elected to the National Executive Board of the Boy Scouts of America, it was announced yesterday by Norton Clapp, president of the National Council, BSA.

Sternberg currently is active in the Boy Scout movement serving as Region Seven vice-chairman. He is a member of the Chokoma Mound Council executive board, and is a member of the long-range planning committee of Region Seven.

Sternberg also will serve World Scouting as chairman of the Relationship Service at the 13th World Jamboree to be held in Japan Aug. 2-12.

Sternberg served as President of the 100,000-member Optimist International during the 1968-69 year.

Not Enough City Bridge Benefits —Former Chief

Barney Fraundorf, 2021 Rhodes St., Madison, former chief of the city's bridge and maintenance department, said this week questioned whether there are sufficient benefits for the city of Madison in its proposal to lease the city's bridge and nearby property for a mulching operation.

"I am a citizen of Madison and am, with a number of local residents, fairly concerned over recent negotiations under way with regard to our city's Chain of Rocks Bridge property and adjacent Chouteau Island landfill, Fraundorf said.

"The negotiations and plans have been conducted behind fairly closed doors, but contents of a tentative lease have been made public."

His lease provides that Madison is to give up its share of 20 years for 15% of the gross receipts of the landfill operation, a $25,000 escrow fund for putting the bridge in working order, free dumping privileges for Madison's city wastes, plus full maintenance and regular major repairs of the bridge.

Cost, Income Guarantees
"(1) There is no guarantee, as of my latest information, on how big that 15% gross receipts will be, or on how big the bridge maintenance will be."

"(2) There is no rigid agreement in the lease on the occurrence of major repair expenses. The bridge will be insured for $250,000, according to estimates a few years ago. It is due now to be painted, and that will cost about $25,000 escrow fund to keep very big."

"(3) Maintenance and man-hours, expenses for carrying one or two sanitary truck trips per day out to the landfill will add up to make free dumping privileges on our own land not all that much of an advantage, considering the distance out there, around 10 miles and the wait in line."

Retain Responsibility
"Advantages for our city of the deal seem all in all, fairly small in light of the responsibility our city retains."

"Madison could run the operation themselves. Local business would undoubtedly underwrite the initial expenses so that we could get going almost 100% of the gross receipts from the operation if we hired our own people."

"On the other hand, they could sell the land and bridge outright and use the money for developments along some other lines for the people of the city."

"In any case, it would be only right if access to the real issues under consideration by city government was given to all the citizens so that they would have the opportunity of possibilities for their future."

300 Jubilee Belles Enjoy Singing, Dancing, Laughs

As the Eagles Kitchen Band played "When the Saints Go Marching In" Tuesday evening, Mayor Donald Parney led the parade of nearly 300 Jubilee Belles in period costumes, in the Wilson Park pavilion in the program of women's participation in Granite City's Diamond Jubilee celebration.

The event was the Jubilee Belles "Fun Party," the first event for women in the city celebration. "The purpose was to have fun and to help everyone have a good time and help us celebrate," Mrs. Emylee Alford, Jubilee women's division chairman, explained.

"We sang and danced and laughed and had a lot of fun, which is what it is all about," she commented.

The Mexican Honorary Commission Dancers of Granite City entertained, and led by Mrs. Valerie Stevens on the piano, the kitchen band struck up the familiar notes of "Yankee Doodle Dandy." "In the Good Old Summer-time," "My Wild Irish Rose," "It's a Grand Old Time of Year" and many other favorites as the 300 voices joined in song.

"A real celebration, that's what it is," said Mrs. Margie Hall, entertainment chairman, adorned in an "immodest," "shocking" turn of the century twin suit, covering her completely from neck to knee.

Many partners, vastly outnumbered by the ladies, obviously enjoyed every moment of the party and in a short while everyone in Granite City joined in the spirit of the celebration. Mrs. Alford also welcomed the belles and commented that any lady wishing to become a belle would be welcomed and should contact her.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Lily Chaboude, chairman of the belles, and her committee.

The party was the second event this week in a five-week celebration honoring Granite City's 75th anniversary. Activities began with the kickoff meeting for the "Little Miss Jubilee" contest Monday night and will close with the final presentation of the "Profiles in Progress" pageant Aug. 28.

Federal Funding Threatened; Need Regional Plans

Metropolitan area communities may lose some federal funds on planned projects unless comprehensive planning is shown by the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council, an official of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development said Tuesday.

Elmer E. Smith, director of the St. Louis HUD office, which has provided $2.4 million to the council since July 1966, said.

"They have done a lot of disjointed planning in the past, but we still have not come up with comprehensive plans. If they're going to be more than a rubber stamp, we need the plans."

The council reviews applications from local governments for federal funds for water and sewer facilities, parks and other programs, including those in Madison County.

Regional Basis

Eligibility for funding of programs as water and sewer facilities will be threatened unless they are developed on a regional basis rather than by individual community projects, Smith said.

Eugene Moody, council executive director, remarked, "We do have to become more action oriented. The board and Smith demand it. If the criticism is that we have been involved in broad-brush areas and haven't focused sharply on something and haven't come up with comprehensive plans, that might be valid."

He added, however, that the work of the council has changed drastically since it was formed five years ago, and that work in the housing field has jumped from nine to 90% of the council's program in the last two years. The council started as a transportation agency and only recently has the federal government insisted it enter other regional fields.

Localities Decide

Smith noted it is up to local officials to decide what they want and then inform HUD so the agency will have some guide for its decisions on federal funding.

Thomas Hooks Improving, Washington Visitor Says

Norman Johnson, director of the Labor Institute at SIU-SW, returned this week from a business trip to Washington, D.C., where he also visited Thomas Hooks of Venice, a patient at the George Washington University Hospital there.

Johnson said Hooks, who was injured critically in a diving accident June 4 in Washington, is showing some improvement.

He said Tom, who was completely paralyzed from the neck down, is able to move both arms.

well and apparently regaining partial use of some of his fingers.

Johnson was in the capital to obtain more information on the Occupational Safety and Health Standards Bill passed May 29, known as Title 20.

The bill is part of the U.S. Department of Labor law dealing with the effects on worker safety and the community at large of new compounds and elements used by manufacturers.

Logan Center Children Enjoy City Hall Trip

Youthful participants in the Granite City Park District's summer recreational program at the Logan School playground center enjoyed a field trip to the city hall building this week.

The children had lunch with Mayor Donald Parney in the city planning program. Austin served as a recreational leader at the Logan center during previous summer programs.

The group was escorted by Misses Janet Kline and Joan Hutchings, park district staff members. The youngsters were given ice cream and drinks by service station owner Rich Hutchings while on the outing.

Future trips planned by the Logan center will include visits to the public library, Nestle Co., and the main fire station.

CRABGRASS

Clumps or strips of light green grass in your lawn is probably crabgrass.

If you are determined to clean out these pesky weeds, then a mid-summer series of sprays will destroy the weeds and leave the bluegrass. Both DSMA and AMA are designated for this selection control. Bluegrass is sometimes injured by the spray, but will survive while the weed grasses gradually die.

The weedy area should be sprayed two or three times at weekly intervals. Other weeds killed include sanbur, fox tail and goose grass. Triangular stemmed nut grass will be partially controlled.

U.S. Has Not Yet Matched State-Local Pollution Funds

CARYL CARSTENS
Copley News Service

Springfield—Federal funds to match state and local money for sewage treatment systems are expected to be a mere drop in the bucket when compared to the need in Illinois.

The state's $750 million pollution control bond issue will, for the first time, provide state matching grants this year to cities and sanitary districts planning to improve and enlarge their sewage systems.

The legislature has authorized expenditures of up to $200 million of the bond funds over the next 12 months. The appropriation bill is awaiting Gov. Richard Ogilvie's signature.

The state funds will provide 25% of the costs of local projects, and it was hoped federal funds would be available to provide another 55%, leaving local residents with only 20% of the cost to pay through a local bond issue.

However, at the most, only

Lightning Merits Respect

Summer is the season of thunderstorms, and where such storms develop, lightning usually is a natural phenomenon. The most destructive forms of lightning are the bolts that reach the ground by some type of conductor. They merit the respectful attention of all persons.

Some suggestions for using care during thunderstorms are the interest of safety come from Frank A. Bridges of the Civil Defense office at Southern Illinois University in Carbondale.

Lightning is the result of developing attraction of negative electrical charges in the ground for positive charges in the clouds during a thunderstorm. They move towards each other through a conductor that may be a tree, a building, a utility pole, or some object that is taller than the surrounding surface of the earth.

That is the reason persons may be struck by lightning in an open field, on a golf course or in a body of water. It packs a tremendous wallop as is evident from splintered trees, shattered utility poles, exploded buildings, or dead livestock near a place where lightning has hit. The bolt also may generate heat in the energy discharge, setting fire to buildings or starting a forest fire. Government reports show that on the average more persons are killed by lightning each year than die in tornadoes or hurricanes.

Farmers working in the field with tractors and other implements having contact with the ground should get off the equipment and take shelter in a protective building or an automobile. Automobiles are considered good protection from lightning during a storm, but field implements often are struck by a bolt.

Persons should avoid standing open in an open field where they become a local conductor for grounding a bolt of lightning. Isolated trees in a field and wire fences also attract lightning.

If no building or automobile is handy for shelter from the storm, head for a ditch, a cave, or head-high clumps of trees in open forest area. Next best thing to do is lie flat on the ground.

Boaters, swimmers, fishermen with metal fishing rods, and golfers with clubs and cleated shoes are good targets for a bolt of lightning if they do not get to a place of safety during a thunderstorm.

Bridges suggests persons indoors during a thunderstorm avoid standing in open doorways or near open windows with screens, fireplaces, stoves, and plugged-in electrical appliances. Avoid using such electrical appliances as hair dryers and electric razors, or talking on the telephone during storms because lightning striking utility lines near the house may travel into the house through the wiring.

City Budget

one at a time for each of the various unions involved. Monday night's budget discussion was delayed from the July 1 council session when a number of aldermen protested a budget of $3,812,843 submitted by the Finance Committee, which includes Boker and Aldermen Steve Basarich and Whitmer. At that meeting Whitmer challenged the procedure of approving a budget before council members had been informed of the time could be taken by the council's negotiating committee and unions representing city employees.

Because of those protests and suggestions that the budget proposed at that time could be trimmed substantially, the council passed action on the appropriation bill pending a further report in this week's meeting.

Cut Street Budget
Boker distributed new budget proposals Monday night projecting 1971-72 expenditures of $3,724,803. This was a reduction of $87,040 below the $3,811,843 figure, with virtually all of the cut in the street department.

The new street department budget of $2,500,000, accounting for $75,000 of the reduction, and eliminated one of two taligate spreaders set up in the original bill at $1,500 each.

Nonn objected that two taligate spreaders were necessary "so if you take out one of them, you might as well take out the other." He moved that the $1,500 for a second spreader be restored in the budget.

Whitmer took the floor to tell the council: "In the last meeting I asked the question—where are we going to cut this budget? Everybody just shrugged their shoulders. The committee tried to cut it and now we are trying to raise it. I ask again, where are we going to cut?"

Boker said: (He Nonn) was the one who screamed the loudest when we presented the budget (July 5). Now he's the one that is wanting to put in the items. If it's a question of the spreader goes back in, I don't care whether you have a budget or not. I can sit down here just like the rest of you."

Nonn Defeated
Nonn's motion to restore the $1,500 for the spreader was defeated by a roll call vote of 7 yes and 5 no votes. Ten votes were required to carry the motion. Voting no were Aldermen Whitmer, Clyde Boyd, William Dallas, Emerald Dawes and Boker. Voting for the motion were Aldermen Nonn, Basarich, Roy Poulos, Claude Green, Everett Morlen, Paul Schuler and Frank Greenwald.

Alderman Gerald Parmley was a guest at Monday's meeting and Alderman R. E. Robertson left the meeting prior to the budget discussion.

Nonn's motion to restore $75,000 to the street department budget for a total of $2,575,000 for a new street department garage carried with only three dissenting votes cast by Whitmer, Dawes and Boker. The motion was voted down by 7 no votes to 5 yes votes a motion by Nonn to add $2,500 to a street department pickup truck.

There was no objection to the addition of $10,000 to the $141,400 budgeted for salaries at the sewage treatment plant, bringing the total to $151,400. The addition was made to provide one additional permanent employee on the plant floor.

Total is Increased
The addition brought the total budget figure to $3,819,803 as compared to the original projection of $3,734,803. The total budget figure in the bill projected two weeks earlier as being excessive was $3,812,843.

Burglary at Lake
Fishing tackle valued at $65 and a sandwich machine valued at $149 were stolen from a stand at Johnson's Fishing Lake, 905 W. Chain of Rocks Road, between 3 p.m. Tuesday and noon Wednesday. It was reported to Madison County authorities. Entry was gained by prying a screen and sliding a window open.

Probation Case
James LeRoy Lyles, 20, of Granite City, was arrested at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday by Madison police for Madison County authorities on a charge of violation of probation. He was released on recognizance pending notice to appear. He was arrested last October on a charge of forgery of stolen checks.

3,500 Enter Armed Forces
In World War II and Fight
On Every Front; 100 Killed

Granite Cityans are preparing to observe their Diamond Jubilee beginning Aug. 21. This is the 75th in a series of local history.

By the latter part of February 1941, the selective service act had begun to hit the young men of the city and, with a group of 34 inducted on Feb. 27, the number of draftees totaled 75.

Taking part in a nation-wide aluminum drive, local residents piled 5,860 pounds of pots and pans and other aluminumware in a bin in front of the city hall. Local industries began preparing for additional lend-lease material and the General Steel Castings Corp. was planning a $14,000,000 addition to manufacture tank armor. Koppers United Co. took over the old coke plant and began producing pig iron for Granite City Steel Co. and other users.

Then came the fateful day, Dec. 7, 1941.

With the declaration of war, many more young men were called away from their jobs, and older persons and young women began filling in, doing the welding and other necessary jobs.

Soldiers from nearby Army installations began housing the vital defense plants, and a group with fixed bayonets patrolled McKinley Bridges.

Christmas and New Year's Day were celebrated in the usual gay manner, but already many were beginning to tighten their belts and invest their earnings in war bond drives that were then in full swing.

Rationing of food, gasoline, tires, etc., came into existence, finding an almost unanimous cooperation among the citizens and a number of men and women found spare-time jobs in war plants to help increase and speed up production for the fighting men.

Upwards of 3,500 went into the armed forces, with hundreds wounded and approximately 100 being killed. Granite City soldiers fought on every front.

While the impact of the war caused curtailment in normal living, there was no personal suffering at home and the celebrations on V-E and V-J day in 1945 were hardly over when industries began converting to peacetime production.

This presented no great problem, although scarcities and a wave of strikes hampered the speedy output of goods.

The Granite City Engineer Depot, a huge installation built during the war, turned to disposal of surplus goods and reduced its personnel to approximately 2,500 or about one-half.

Industries continued to expand to meet peacetime competition, and work was started on an eight-mile canal on the Mississippi River to provide a navigable channel.

Hearings were held on a proposed harbor at Horseshoe Lake, and attention of the community also turned to the field of aviation with a proposal for a major airport near the lake still in the hopper.

Heavy rains, which brought thousands of citizens into a fight to hold the Chouteau, Namekagon and Veneta levees on two occasions during the war years, came again and spotlighted the community's need for an adequate sewer and drainage system.

Granite City, with the help of the Federal Works Agency and the War Department, provided partial stormwater relief to city property, and sentiment crystallized for an overall plan proposed by the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce. Enabling legislation was adopted by the General Assembly.

As the year 1946 neared an end, the future held a rosy picture of great industrial expansion, more diversification of industry, enormous housing developments if materials could be expedited, and a general improvement in living conditions.

Telephone Strike Ends; Workers Get 33% Raise

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company employees, including those in the Quad-City area, returned to work Tuesday night under a proposed contract settlement reached by the company and the Communications Workers of America, AFL-CIO.

The notice to end the one-week-old strike was made by CWC President Joseph A. Belme Monday after a settlement estimated at about a 33.5% increase in wages and benefits over three years was reached.

The proposed contract must be ratified by all union members by mail, a process which is expected to take approximately two weeks. Belme requested all union members to return to work on their normal shifts after 10:59 p.m. Tuesday, which allowed the 11 p.m. shift to be the first to return.

Copies of the proposed agreement and the ratification ballots are being mailed to members who will return them to a Washington, D. C., accounting firm by Aug. 14. The firm then will announce the results as soon as they can be tabulated.

If ratified, the benefits of the new contract will be retroactive to last Monday, the date on which the company signed the contract.

Paul G. Gray, assistant to D. L. McCowen, vice-president of District 6 of the CWC, described the contract as, "the best we ever have negotiated, by far, and suggested union members vote in favor of ratification."

He also said, "From those contracts in major industry that have been negotiated this year, this contract is better than any of them."

The agreement calls for a 12.25% increase in basic wages the first year with 3% increases plus cost of living increases (about 4%) in the second and third years. Fringe benefits including pensions, health insurance, and vacations were also included, Gray said. Washington's Birthday was also added as a holiday for the members.

If the contract is ratified, all top-rated plant skilled craftsmen would receive immediate $25 per week increases in basic wages and clerical personnel would receive an additional $18.50 per week. Those working in major metropolitan areas (St. Louis and East St. Louis included) would also receive a special "big city allowance" of $1 per working day to compensate for parking, transportation, crime and other problems encountered by those working within the city limits.

During the strike, seven management personnel from the local office and the main headquarters building in East St. Louis worked 15-hour shifts to handle the work normally done by the 25 operators and employees.

Motorcyclist Injured
Russell L. Gall, 42, of 506 Bend Road, was injured when his motorcycle went out of control, struck the center divider and turned over at 12:45 a.m. today at E. 20th Street and Edwardsville Road.

Stolen Auto Found
A 1968 auto reported stolen during the night from Bill Rollins, 2723 N. Main Street, at 7:30 a.m. Wednesday was recovered by the Madison County sheriff's department.

Tri-City Races Moved To St. Charles Track

Racing action at the Tri-City Speedway will be curtailed this weekend as the Jaycee Rodeo takes over the track surface Thursday, Friday and Saturday. But the weekly super-sprint and late model stock car races will be run Friday night at the St. Charles Speedway in St. Charles, Mo. Included in the program is a 73-lap sprint feature on the quarter-mile track.

In an effort to lure the regular speedway drivers to St. Charles for the displaced race, double points will be awarded in both categories which will be added to the driver's Tri-City Speedway points.

Under this system, it is expected that the top drivers who appear here regularly will be forced to participate or lose their point leads.

The quarter-mile track at St. Charles will present a new set of problems for the drivers who normally race here on the half-mile oval.

The quarter-mile offers considerably more action with large groups of autos bunched in the smaller turns and shorter straights for the drivers.

3 Prep Golf Stars to Play For Cougars

Three outstanding high school golfers who graduated last June have signed letters of intent to enroll at Southern Illinois University—Southern.

Harry J. Gallatin, athletic director and varsity golf coach, has announced.

Gallatin's 1971 Cougar golfers posted a 22-8 record and for the second straight season qualified for the National Collegiate Athletic Assn.'s college division tournament. From that squad Gallatin has lost four graduating seniors.

The trio of prep star golfers are Robin Johnson of Charleston, W. Va., and Rusty Pierce and Marty Kelley of Belleville.

The 6'3", 185-pound Johnson has been a leading contender for the past two seasons for the West Virginia state amateur championship title. He also lettered in basketball.

Pierce was a key player on Coach Dave Shanahan's Belleville West team, while Kelley, who played for Alto High, is rated one of the best prep players by area coaches.

Self-confidence must be built up from the past in order to give a man hope for the future.

The four teams advanced to the state ASA tournament July 31 and Aug. 9 at Decatur.

Two Cyclists Injured In Race at Speedway

Two motorcycle drivers were injured during the consolation race at the Tri-City Speedway Tuesday night during the consolation event of the weekly motorcycle races.

Dan Dooley of Florissant, Mo., lost control of his cycle in the first turn early in the event, was thrown onto the surface and was run over by Richard Morris of Moline Acres, Mo. Morris' cycle went out of control and dumped him on his right shoulder at the edge of the track. The event was red flagged and restarted.

Both riders were admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital, Doolittle with injuries to his left shoulder and back and Morris with pains to his right shoulder and elbow, both knees and back.

Charles Chapple of Flint, Mich., rode his Yamaha to victory in the feature event after taking the lead on the sixth lap of the 10-lap event. Gordon Dusenberry of Wichita, Kan., took an early lead which he held for three laps and first-year rookie Preston Windom of Peoria passed for the lead which he held two laps. Chapple had a slow start and was forced to move from the rear of the pack, to pass Windom.

Dusenberry claimed second and Windom finished fourth. Hard-charging Neil Keen, track point-leader, was the victim of a slow start, and despite consistently fast laps in the feature, could not close the gap between himself and the leaders and was forced to accept third. Keen claimed the fast time of the night in 15:73 seconds on the half-mile.

Chapple was the winner of one semi-feature and Windom the other. Heat winners were Chapple, Dusenberry, Charles Seale and Ed Gahn.

Fall SIU Students Urged to Register

New students admitted to 1971 fall quarter classes at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale are urged strongly by Admissions Director Jerome C. Pfaff to register this summer.

The advance registration program which began July 6 will extend through Aug. 27. At registration, Pfaff said, these students will meet with their academic advisers and arrange their fall quarter classes.

Pfaff said students unable to participate in the summer registration program may register just prior to the fall quarter beginning, but registration at the later time will be on a first-come, first-served basis and no appointments will be issued.

He said 25 days were set aside between July 6 and Aug. 27 to accommodate the first-time students—freshmen and new transfers. In addition to registration and advisement activities, the Student Activities Office is conducting an orientation meeting for students each day in the University Center, which includes a campus tour of university facilities.

Pfaff listed the 25 set-aside days—that do not include Saturdays or Sundays—as July 6 through 15, 19, 21, 23, 26, 28, 30 and Aug. 2 through 9, 11, 19, 23 and 25.

At the time new students are being advised and registered at the University's Counseling and Testing Center will conduct a placement and proficiency program in Morris Library Auditorium to determine course

Top Illinois Jr. College Student

1959 MHS Graduate to Resume Academic Study

Olle S. Walker Jr., a 1959 graduate of Madison High School, is returning to school to further his academic studies after 11 years. He worked for Consolidated Aluminum Co. (Dow Chemical Co.) until this month, and will attend Fisk University, Nashville, this fall.

He worked full time at Consolidated and attended State Community College in East St. Louis full time, managing an "A" average for the last year and a half. Besides being on the scholastic honor roll, he is an amateur poet.

He was elected to the law-making body of the Student Senate, was a school committee nominee to select books for the school, and also worked on the school paper. He donated one day a week to the Project Promise Center in East St. Louis.

In February of this year, Walker was chosen as the most outstanding male student at the State Community College, qualifying him to compete for "outstanding student in junior colleges of the southern district."

Going from the southern district to the state finals, out of 169,000 students, he was chosen as the final male winner in an award ceremony held at the Palmer House in Chicago.

The Continental Bank of Chicago and the Illinois Association of Community and Junior Colleges sponsored the program.

After an oral interview with a panel headed by Federal Judge Otto Kerner, assisted by Sister Ann Ida Cannon, president of Mundelein College, and Dr. Edwin Lee, a Springfield surgeon and civil leader, he was presented the following awards: $100—Outstanding student at State Community College. $250—Outstanding student in the district, with 14 junior and community colleges represented. $1,000—Outstanding made student of Illinois, with the check presented to him by State Auditor Michael Hewlett.

He was awarded a certificate, plaque and engraved silver cup and his name has been inscribed on a permanent plaque in the school. Granted a scholarship from the Dunforth Foundation for $4,000 a year for the next four years to the college of his choice, he chose Fisk University.

Walker is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Olle S. Walker Sr., 814 Webster St., Madison. He lives at 584 N. 22nd St., East St. Louis, and is married to his childhood sweetheart, Arietta, daughter of Mrs. Verma Ingram. They have three children, Olle III, David and Kathy.

He majored in special education at SCC and plans to teach retarded children and later become a director of his own center "to help those who cannot help themselves."

CHANCE FOR STARDOM. Locally owned horses to be used by the "Comanche Fireballs," a stunt-riding, mother-and-son team whose personal mounts could not be transported from Texas for the Jaycees' "World Championship Rodeo" set tonight, Friday and Saturday at the Tri-City Speedway.

3 Performances Set

Championship Rodeo Opens Tonight

By VALERIE EVENEDEN

Press-Record Staff Writer

Major competitive events in which professional cowboys will vie for lucrative purses and important International Rodeo Association points will start at 8 o'clock tonight at the Tri-City Speedway, 5300 Namvoki Road.

Sponsored for the second year by the Granite City Jaycees, the "World Championship Rodeo" will continue Friday and Saturday evenings at the speedway arena.

Tickets, priced at $2 for adults and $1 for children, may be purchased at the gate immediately before the 8 p.m. showtime. At tonight's performance, one child, 12 years and under, will be admitted free for each adult ticket holder, Dave Partney, rodeo chairman announced.

Jaycee organizers here expressed relief this week that the show could go on as planned when it was learned the serious sleeping sickness-type disease that has invaded the vast horse population of Texas has not affected the stock to be used in the local rodeo.

"All our stock is coming from the A & C Ranch in Salem, Iowa," Partney said, adding that no difficulties were encountered in getting the horses, bulls and steers here for the Jaycee rodeo.

Most of the top-ranked rodeo contestants, who use their own horses for calf roping and steer wrestling events, were competing in rodeos outside the infected areas and have arrived for the contests here, it was learned.

The embargo which restricts the movement of horses and cattle in five states has caused one major change in the local rodeo program and provided an opportunity for two horses belonging to Venice policemen to make their debut in show business.

The animals owned by Venice Police Chief Ralph "Dewey" Brawley and Patrolman Joseph Meehan have been "borrowed" as an emergency measure to permit the well-known stunt riding team — the Comanche Fireballs—to perform their act.

"Without the generous offer from Chief Brawley and Patrolman Meehan, Mary Kootman and her son, Tommy, could not appear in the rodeo," Partney said. The stunt riders called from Waco, Tex., last weekend reported they could not fulfill their contract as the animals used were quarantined in Texas.

"Mrs. Kootman said they could train two good horses in four days or less, if the Jaycees could come up with the mounts," the rodeo chairman said.

The Venice horses were given a preliminary workout and found acceptable and training began in earnest Tuesday.

"I believe it is more the rider adapting to the horse," Chief Brawley said when asked to comment about being the owner of an animal now capable of allowing a rider to accomplish such tricks as a suicide drop, one-foot stand and a Cossack jag.

"These people know how to handle horses," the police chief noted, pointing out that both

TOP SADDLE BRONC RIDER. Gene Maynard of Grove, Okla., the 1970 World Champion Saddle Bronc Rider, shows the form and style which helped him capture his second title last year. The saddle-

rel race, saddle bronc riding and Brahma bull riding. Points earned in the Granite City rodeo will be accumulated toward the world championship titles — the winners announced each fall. Several particularly gifted cowboys who are expected to place high in world championship competition will compete here, Partney said.

Bronc Riding Classic
Does rodeo have what is regarded as a classic single event? To the man who knows the world of rodeo — saddle bronc riding is the answer.

When rodeo first started in the 1880s, saddle bronc riding was one of the original events. The other was steer roping, which continues today only in far western states.

Saddle bronc riding, however, is the old standby and represents a ranch chore that is as necessary now as it was then. On the surface, the event appears much easier than bareback bronc riding. A closer look and a chat with any rodeo cowboy will tell you in a hurry that this is not true.

This is a 10-second ride, as required by International Rodeo Association (IRA) rules, while the bareback bronc event last for only 8 seconds. Cowboys will tell you, those two seconds when you are fighting to stay aboard a leaping, bucking horse, is a mighty long time.

The saddle, which may seem to make things easier for a rider, only makes it tougher. It offers more equipment in which the rider might become entangled, making the ride one of the most dangerous of all events.

Animals used in saddle bronc riding are ordinarily larger by 200 pounds or more than the bareback animals. Not only that, but they are stronger and they hit the ground harder with each stride. Because of the dangers, saddle bronc riding lures fewer contestants than some other rodeo events.

First Jump Rules
Take a look at the rules. The first jump out of the chute requires the same rule both in bareback and saddle bronc riding. The cowboy must touch both heels over the point of the horse's shoulders.

After the first jump, things change with the rider required to move his heels along the side of the horse, from shoulder to flank, with each jump.

A rider cannot assist himself with his free hand by touching the horse. Such a touch disqualifies the rider, as is the case when he loses either or both stirrups.

The contestant's right hand hangs onto a "bucking rein" that is a round piece of hand-braided rope about 1½ inches in diameter. Every bronc rider carefully measures the length of rein from the horse's halter to his hand before calling for the animal to be turned loose in the arena.

Too little rein could mean a sudden spill right out of the chute, since most horses are strong enough to pull a rider out of the saddle. An extra long rein leaves the rider with periodic moments of slack rope as the horse stretches his neck one way or the other.

Saddle bronc riding too tough? How about bull riding said to be one of the more simple events in professional rodeo?

2,000 Pound Brahmas
The rules are simple enough. All a rider has to do is stay in the driver's seat for eight seconds. But, it might be tough to get a cowboy to say it is simple after trying to hang on to a 2,000 pound Brahma bull for eight full seconds.

Fact of the matter, a rider can be bucked off and still bronc riding specialist will compete tonight through Saturday at the Granite City Jaycees rodeo. The Oklahoma also won the world championship title in 1968.

score points, if the whistle sounds before he touches the ground . . . and if he keeps his rope in his hands.

At least you don't need much money to get into the bull riding business. A cowboy can do it by getting a glove, dulle spurs and a flat braided rope, called appropriately enough—a bullrope.

Even the rules in this event favor the rider and there's not much cash outlay, but there is one big factor that keeps many cowboys out of the event: the fact that it lasting eight seconds on the modern day rodeo bull is a monumental task.

Unpredictable Breed
The animals will do everything possible to unsettle a rider and, in addition, Brahmas have a loose hide that makes it difficult to maintain a firm seat.

Couple these factors with the sheer brute strength generated by a bucking bull and it is easy to understand why many bull riders try, but few ride the required time.

As in other riding events, approved by the IRA, two judges mark both stock and rider on a scale from 1 to 25. A perfect score would be 100 points which has never been attained. Any score of 60 or more points is considered outstanding.

One of the most exciting events in rodeo is calf roping, which demands absolute teamwork between the horse and rider. Although the hands of the stop watch determine the winner, stringent rules govern the thrilling race that takes split-second timing by the man-and-animal team to beat the clock.

The object of the whole thing is for the cowboy to lasso his calf, dismount from his horse, run down the rope, wrestle the calf to the ground by hand and tie any three legs together so the animal cannot get up.

Ranch hand cowboys do the same thing routinely during a branding season. But they don't try to beat the clock or go by set rules.

Calf Gets Head Start
IRA rules in the rodeo arena permits the calf to get predetermined head start while a barrier rope is stretched in front of the roper and his horse at the starting gate.

The rope is chest high to the horse and should the animal get over anxious to take up the chase before the calf runs its legal distance, the roper is disqualified.

Settlement by 15 Book Publishers Will Aid Schools

Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott has announced that more than $1 million will be awarded to Illinois public school districts under a court-ordered settlement won by Scott from 15 publishers and distributors of library editions of children's books.

Scott has begun mailing refund checks to 777 Illinois school districts, with the amounts proportioned according to student enrollment during the school year of 1966-67. Granite City has received $3,500.

The largest refund, which will total more than $250,000, will go to the Chicago Board of Education.

The settlement award is the result of a treble damage lawsuit against the publishers and distributors which was instituted in Chicago in the U. S. District Court for the Northern District of Illinois, Eastern Division.

Defendants covered by the agreed court settlement are: Bobbs Merrill, Children's Press, Thomas Y. Crowell, E. P. Dutton, Grosset & Dunlap, Harper & Row, Holt Rinehart & Winston, Little Brown, William Morrow, R. A. Ramo, Hoes, Charles Scribner's Sons, Henry Z. Walck, Follett Library Book, Charles M. Gardner and A. C. McClurg.

Conspiracy Alleged
Under Scott's suit, they are charged with a price-fixing conspiracy initiating a pricing system that prohibited discounts to schools and libraries, thus increasing prices by as much as a dollar a book.

Specifically, Scott's suit says the defendants conspired to "fix, maintain and stabilize prices on children's library books . . . at high, artificial, non-competitive levels, which caused the purchasing school districts to pay higher prices than they would ordinarily have paid in a freely competitive market."

The litigation, a "class action" suit, was filed by the attorney general's office on behalf of the state, its agencies and school districts to allow all Illinois school districts which had purchased books from the publishers to receive damages for overcharges.

Scott said the money now being mailed to the schools is an initial distribution comprising about 60% of the settlement made with the first 15 defendants. The remaining funds from these settlements will be distributed at a later date.

In addition to the $1 million covered by this court order, Scott said he hopes to win substantial recoveries from about 10 other large publishing houses against whom suits are still pending. They are: Golden Press, Inc., Racine, Wis.; The McMillan Co., New York City; G. P. Putnam's Sons, New York City; Franklin Watts, Inc., New York City; Baker & Taylor, Hillsdale, N. J.; American News, New York City; Campbell & Hall, Inc., Boston; and Cosmo Distributing Co., East Rutherford, N. J.

Lake Can Be Beautiful, 200 Volunteers Learn

Cooperation of boaters from Illinois and Missouri again set the pace for a successful cleanup of the Alton Lake, sponsored by Pride, Inc., during the week-end.

More than 15 tons of litter was picked up on the islands in the Alton Lake by 100 Boy Scouts from the Piasa Bird Council and 100 pleasure boat operators from Illinois and Missouri as part of the fifth annual "Keep Alton Lake Clean" project.

"We are making headway with our educational program among the users of this lake," Herbert R. Hellrung, chairman of Pride's Alton Lake said. "This is our fifth year, and we notice much less debris on the islands than in the past."

Determined effort by a number of boaters and scouts is starting to pay dividends he added, people are responding to the plea of taking their litter with them when their picnics are over on the islands.

Amsted Earnings For 2nd Quarter Show 42% Gain

Amsted Industries — parent firm for the American Steel Foundries — on Tuesday reported its earnings in the quarter ended June 30 were 42% higher than the same quarter a year ago on a small increase in sales.

Net income amounted to $3,614,000, or $1.31 per share, compared with $2,543,000, or 92 cents per share, last year. Sales were $74,613,000 compared to $73,812,000.

Joseph B. Lanterman, chairman, and Goff Smith, president, said major factors contributing to the increase in quarterly earnings were the impact of major cost reduction programs, higher selling prices for certain product lines, decreased interest expense, and the lower price of metal scrap — a major raw material used by the company's foundry plants.

Earnings in the nine months ended June 30 were $6,309,000, or $2.29 per share, up from $5,942,000, or $2.14 per share, for the same period in fiscal 1967-70. Nine-month sales totaled $226,510,000 compared with $226,276,000 a year ago.

Steady Improvement
Operating results have improved from quarter to quarter this year.

Lanterman and Smith said, "Because of regular vacation shutdowns, earnings in the Sept. 30 quarter are expected to be lower than in the three months just ended. However, it is anticipated they will be above those in the corresponding period last year."

Expenditures for plant and equipment amounted to $3,400,000 in the first nine months of the fiscal year.

Long-term debt at June 30 was $7,438,000, down from $16,429,000 at the beginning of the fiscal year.

Retailers Back Bill to Solve Credit Problems

"The rapid growth of consumer credit, estimated to total 100 billion dollars in 1970," said Hugh Muncy, President, Illinois Retail Merchant's Association, "has created new problems and highlighted old ones for both credit grantors and receivers."

A major complaint of those who use consumer credit has been the doctrine of Holder-in-Due-Course. "Under this doctrine," Muncy said, "a seller may turn the customer's 'note' over to a third party who then becomes a Holder-in-Due-Course. This holder," Muncy continued, "can legally collect for merchandise or services without being liable to any of the same claims and defenses as the initial seller."

Michael O. Parks, 2817 Maryville Road, reported at 11:30 a.m. Tuesday that his green 1970 foreign compact car was stolen from his driveway between 2 and 9 a.m.

"This doctrine," Muncy added, "because it provides needed remedies to the customer and can help to rid the marketplace of fringe operators who 'fed off' rather than serve the consuming public." The association "has in the past and will continue to support measures to increase the safety of the marketplace for both buyers and sellers," he said.

Train Ride in Red China -- Miles and Miles of Fields

By BENEDICTO S. DAVID
Copley News Service

PEKING, Aug. 16.—People's Republic of China—Train rides elsewhere may simply be a means of getting from one place to another, but in this comparatively unknown country it is an experience worth remembering.

During the 36 hours it took to travel the 1,500 miles from Canton to Shanghai we saw the backbone of China's strength and the seat of its power agricultural development.

As far as the eye could see on both sides of the tracks through all our waking hours stretched fields of grain, vegetables, orchards, duck-breeding farms and even "green manure," a crop that apparently increases the nitrogen content of the soil.

We could see hills being leveled and farmed. And we were told that the work was done by human labor. Machines, although produced here, are not ordinarily used in public works absolutely necessary.

China's trains run on schedule—and our train which traveled 1,500 miles arrived on the dot in Shanghai.

Contrary to the general impression in the outside world, there are different classes here so far as trains are concerned.

One can travel on "Ying-zuochu" or "hard seat" class; on the "Yingwoche" or "hard sleeper" class or one can travel in style on the "Ruannwoche" or "soft sleeper" class.

Hard seats are really hard because they are made of wood. The same goes for the hard sleeper cars which have the bunks in tiers of four.

Most of the travelers on the train brought cushions to serve as cushions or mattresses. The soft sleeper class, however, can compare with European railways.

Granite City PRESS-RECORD
Page 10 Thurs., July 22, 1971

They are in fact patterned after the European sleepers with small rooms that can hold four people.

Tea is available on request and each cabin has spotless porcelain tea mugs complete with covers to keep the tea hot. Attached to the soft sleeper car is a dining car which serves both Chinese and simple European food.

Each cabin is provided with an electric fan and a loud-speaker that can be turned on or off—as compared to the loud-speakers in the other classes that cannot be turned off by individual travelers.

At the stops along the way, visitors can get off and walk for a few minutes, buy Chinese sweets, "siao-pao" or Chinese dumplings with meat inside, cigarettes, wine and other kinds of snacks.

The Chinese along the way were friendly and many went out of their way to do us favors. When a member of the Filipino trade mission wanted to buy some Chinese biscuits, for example, a soldier who was traveling bought some for him.

Soldiers here, unlike many countries in Asia, do not carry weapons. When off duty they do not mind having their pictures taken. But on duty, when they are armed, they do not allow their pictures to be taken.

Our guide, Song Wen Wah, told us that the military do not wear insignia because everyone in every unit knows everybody else—and who is supposed to give orders.

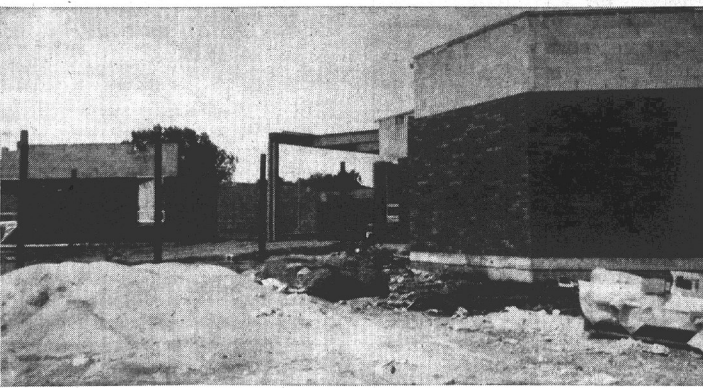

Soldiers, we observed, do not salute one another. And the only title used is "comrade."

"The only way to guess the rank of the soldier is to see how old he is," said Song.

"And at that, you'll be guessing," he said.

The train, like everything else in China, are clean.

The cabins are cleaned when the occupants are dining. The hot water Thermos jugs for the

REV. SAMMY TIPPIT

"Old Town" Evangelist To Conduct Rally Here

The Rev. Sammy Tippit, Chicago "Old Town" evangelist and one of the founders of the present "Jesus Movement" which is spreading across the country, will conduct a Jesus Rally here next month.

The rally, nondenominational and free to all who wish to attend, will be conducted from noon to 8 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 21, at the Baptist Recreation Grounds in Mitchell, on Engineers Road near Route 203.

Rev. Tippit is a young Southern Baptist preacher, in his 20's, who walks through Old Town, trying to help the lonely and unhappy on the streets by offering them the love of Jesus. Why? Tippit explained, "God put a burden on my heart for this city."

He and his wife, Tex, were raised in Louisiana and briefly attended Southeastern Louisiana University. The couple traveled throughout the south preaching to drug addicts, prostitutes, thieves and others before moving to Chicago last fall.

Last summer they completed a 1,500 mile trek across the Southern states to Washington, D.C., pushing a wheelbarrow filled with psychologically oppressed young people. The walk was, as Rev. Tippit described it, "to encourage national spiritual revival, especially among young people," and was one of the roots of the present Jesus Movement.

St. Peter's Church Opens 'School for Young Years'

The establishment of the St. Peter School for the Young Years for Granite City and the surrounding area has been announced by the Church Council of St. Peter United Church of Christ, 21st Street and Cleveland Boulevard.

Mrs. Ray Werth is director of the pre-school for children 3 and 4 years old. Registrations are now being accepted with the first day of classes slated to begin on Tuesday, Aug. 31st. Sessions will be held Monday through Friday from 9 to 11:30 a.m.

Children may enroll for a five-day, three-day, or two-day week of classes. Vacations will follow the public school calendar. The school, which is licensed through the State of Illinois, Department of Children and Family Services, will have a limited enrollment. A registration fee of $5 also will serve as a holding fee and is non-refundable. Tuition for the class will be $2 per day to be pre-paid on either a weekly or monthly basis.

Further information regarding the school may be obtained by calling the church, 877-1904, or Mrs. Werth, 831-3782. Registration forms and a Parent's Handbook are available upon request.

Bill Would Tie Tax Exemption To Living Cost

Congressman Melvin Price (D-East St. Louis) announced yesterday the introduction of a bill he is sponsoring that would instill more equity into the federal income tax structure by tying the personal exemption to the cost of living.

"The $600 personal exemption," Price said, "was set in 1948. Since then, the cost of living has risen over 50%, but the exemption has been raised only 4%. Even though the personal exemption is scheduled to increase to $750 in 1973, that's only a net increase of 25% since 1948."

Price said that exemptions for businesses always have been figured on a percentage basis, and hence go up with the cost of living. Personal exemptions, however, have not been adjusted efficiently, and since they are structured around marginal "tax brackets."

"This bill," said Price, "would tie the personal exemption to the cost of living and would go into effect in 1974. The 1969 Tax Reform Bill does not go far enough in many areas. The taxpayers of America need a fairer shake, and the adoption of this mild proposal will insure further equity in treatment of the personal exemption."

Rounded to the nearest five dollars for ease of filing, this proposed personal exemption would provide the most help to low and middle income taxpayers, and its cost would be very small.

Airport Hearing to Include 3rd Session

A hearing next month on selection of the Columbia-Waterloo area for a second major airport has been expanded to include a third session to be held in East St. Louis. It was announced yesterday by Robert Lankin, chairman of the St. Louis Metropolitan Airport Authority.

The hearing will open at 7 p.m. Aug. 16 at the Waterloo High School and will be reconvened the following night, Aug. 17, at 7 p.m., in the Belle-Claire Exposition Hall at Belleville. The hearing then will recess until Aug. 23 when the third session will reconvene in the St. Louis Convention Center, 411 East Broadway, East St. Louis, at 2 p.m.

The hearing will involve testimony on ecology and effects of the airport upon the area. Persons wishing to testify have been asked to notify Arven Sausville, executive director of the airport authority. Statements in writing also may be submitted and will become a part of the record.

This mild proposal will insure further equity in treatment of the personal exemption."

Rounded to the nearest five dollars for ease of filing, this proposed personal exemption would provide the most help to low and middle income taxpayers, and its cost would be very small.

HOW HAUGHTILY HE COCKS HIS NOSE TO TELL WHAT EVERY SCHOOLBOY KNOWS

Jonathan Swift

This quotation causes us to stop and wonder about the best way to sell food, which is my job. I have never seen a food advertiser say anything but good about the products he was promoting.

This is entirely natural and there are many fine companies and many fine food stores other than our markets. We can tell you many good things about our stores, but so can our competitors praise their companies. But, after all, it is your money you spend, and it is your judgement that decides at which food store you shop. I suppose that the best thing we can ask you to do is to compare our stores, our prices, our cleanliness and hope your verdict is in our favor.

Use the suggestion envelopes we have placed in a rack in our stores. They are addressed to the President of the company. No postage required. Thru your praise or criticism, we get to know you better.

Revenue Rises Sharply in Secy. of State's Office

The Secretary of State's office was turned back this said, treasury $2,500,000 in funds that were not spent during the past fiscal year, will cut costs on purchases and other operations by a little more than $2,000,000 for the new fiscal year and will increase revenue by about $6,000,000 this year for a total of $285,000,000, Secretary of State John W. Lewis said at a press conference Tuesday in Belleville.

Lewis concluded his remarks with an endorsement of Governor Richard B. Ogilvie for re-election next year, saying the Governor has "done an outstanding job in bringing the State of Illinois from financial disaster to a period of fiscal responsibility."

"As we move into the new fiscal year, we have been able to hold our budget down even in the face of ever-rising costs of materials, increases in postal rates, increase in the cost of some rental spaces and the fact that this includes the three percent payroll adjustment for all employees, plus fringe benefits as outlined by Governor Ogilvie," Secretary Lewis said. "Tied in with the budget is a reduction of 246 authorized personnel."

Lewis pointed particularly to the new Division of Investigations as a source of additional revenue.

"One of the first changes made in the organization of the office was elevation of the investigating unit to full division status, and it has already shown results that benefit the people of the State of Illinois," he said.

In Cook county for the first six months of 1970, truck enforcement procedures have brought in $200,000 in truck license fees that the state might not otherwise have received.

Truck Fees Increase
 "Specifically, during the first six months in 1970, truck enforcement procedures in Cook county netted only $146,868 and 240 citations were issued," Secretary Lewis said. "During the last six months of this year, a total of $347,848 was collected and 105 citations issued."

Downstate, separate figures were not kept for forced and voluntary registrations, but the total for both was $228,484. So far this year, it is $140,009 for forced registrations alone.

Lewis said he may have to institute proceedings to force the discharged architect of the State Capitol rehabilitation program to produce engineering reports and drawings "which he had completed himself and has been compensated for" so that the work may continue.

The architect, Harry Fernandes of Springfield, has received $1,229,815 for his services from July 1, 1965 to June 14 of this year, for the $15,800,000 project, and "not only has been amply paid but probably overpaid for his work," Secretary Lewis listed savings in the following areas: $300,000 reduction in the cost of license plate manufacture; $129,000 reduction in annual contracts, many of which were put on a big basis for the first time; $100,000 savings in duplicating and type-writer maintenance and pooling of equipment; $357,000 reduction in ordinary rehabilitation and maintenance of Capitol Complex buildings.

$472,000 savings by eliminating all contingency funds; $284,780 through reduction of equipment; $175,357 by reduction of extra help; $135,000 by reduction of 246 employees; $54,000 through cancellation of leases on space not needed.

60 Roadside Rest Areas Planned in State; 4 Ready

By JOAN MURARO

Copley News Service
 Springfield—To date, one pair of roadside rest stops has been completed and another pair is scheduled to open Aug. 1 in a program intended to give the state 28 pairs and four single rest stop sites along major state routes by 1975.

A spokesman for the Division of Highways in the Department of Public Works and Buildings said the stops already in operation are located on Interstate 55, north of Springfield, while two off Interstate 70, east of Alton in Effingham County, are scheduled for completion by Aug. 1.

Work is also progressing on pairs of stops in Bureau, Grundy and Union Counties, and Clark County, and pairs of rest stops off Interstate 55 in McLean, Madison, Livingston, Grundy and Will Counties; off Interstate 80 west of Princeton in Bureau County; off Interstate 80 west of Moline, in Grundy County; off Interstate 57 north of Monee in Will County; off I-57 north of Illinois Rt. 146 in Union County; and a single unit off I-74 east of Goodfield in Woodford County.

The facilities vary from site to site but basically each will contain a building housing a lobby and restrooms, as well as picnic areas, off-highway parking lots, rooming to accommodate trucks and campers as well as passenger cars, and dumping areas for campers.

Water will be provided at all the stops, and nearly all will have some sort of public information service.

In some areas, the information service will be manned, the spokesman said, while in others it will consist of a display type installation, giving information about anything of note for the 50 to 60 miles along the route to the next rest stop, as well as up to 30 miles on either side of the highway along primary routes.

Maintenance personnel will be provided for all the rest stops, which are usually located in pairs to accommodate traffic moving in both directions along major routes.

Single units are usually near state borders, where the neighboring state will provide the companion facility.

Drug Problems at Festival Are Remote--Rendleman

"With the cooperation of our students, the possibility of drug problems at the Mississippi River Festival is remote," Dr. John S. Rendleman, chancellor of Southern Illinois University-Southwestern, said Wednesday.

Rendleman's comment followed a 90-minute conference he had requested involving representatives of the FBI, the Illinois Bureau of Investigation, local law enforcement officers and student leaders.

"Students have assumed the responsibility of alleviating any problems that may exist," the chancellor said. He said the group discussed ways of handling potential drug problems "with the able assistance of the FBI, state police and the Madison County sheriff's office."

Rendleman indicated no set formula was developed for handling of incidents which may arise but that neither SIU or any of the law enforcement agencies represented would permit breaking of the law.

"I think we have had cooperation before and will continue to have it now. Today's meeting clarified responsibilities," the chancellor said. He termed the

Jubilee Medals Still Available; Going Fast

Out-of-state requests for Granite City diamond jubilee medals are increasing, while the supply of medals is dwindling, Harry Fichte, co-chairman of the 75th Anniversary Medal Committee, noted today.

Fichte, who is heading the special jubilee committee with Charles Hileman and Russell Ames, said several requests have been received by mail. The latest came yesterday from Shenandoah, Iowa.

Individual commemorative medals and the medal sets may be secured at all local banks and three savings and loan firms, Fichte said. Silver proof medals are serial numbered and cost $10 each. Solid bronze medals are $2 each.

Bronze and silver proof sets with matched serial numbers in custom-made lucite holders, are $15 per set, while gold-on-silver, the boxes also include a serial number and cost $35 per set.

"When the supply is exhausted, that is it," Fichte said, reminding local residents that the medal series offered is strictly limited.

EPA Officials Heard

Hearings on alleged air pollution violations by Granite City Steel Co. resumed this week in Chicago with three officials of the Environmental Protection Agency office in Collinsville taking part.

The three testified to observations of pollution at the plant, which they allegedly made. It was the up to the EPA to determine if the close of the hearings would result in the pollution constituted violations of allowable emissions.

The hearings took place Tuesday and yesterday and a session is scheduled for tomorrow but may be cancelled, according to attorneys. They will resume in the Granite City, Ill., on July 28, 29 and 30 and August 2, 3 and 4 before adjourning for several weeks for summer vacation.

Postal Strike Averted By Pay Raise of $1.700

A threatened U.S. Postal Service strike apparently has been averted as the union, the National Association of Postal Employees, accepted a pay raise of $1.700 per year, settling this week, granting the average postal employee more than $1,200 in pay increases over the next two years.

About 1,400 issues remain to be settled at later negotiations but Postal Union leaders signed the $1-billion contract on the basis of the monetary settlement.

All employees with more than six months on the job will be granted a $300 lump sum payment, a five percent raise of about $200 each over the next two years. A cost-of-living clause provides for an additional increase up to $160 per year.

Exams Continuing Despite Bottleneck on Draft Bill

By JOAN MURARO
Copley News Service

Springfield—Pre-induction physicals continue in Illinois despite a bottleneck in passing the 1971 draft bill, which has been bogged down in a House-Senate conference committee in Washington, over an "end the war" amendment tacked on by Senate doves.

Meanwhile, it has been announced that the third annual draft lottery will be conducted, starting at 10 a.m. on Aug. 5, in the Commerce Department Auditorium, in Washington, to assign random sequence numbers to young men who, unless exempt or deferred, will be liable to call during the 12 months beginning Jan. 1, 1972.

Col. George A. Stewart, deputy director of the Illinois Selective Service system, said that presently "we are continuing as normal, doing all the things we were doing before the June 30 expiration date of the draft bill, except for actually calling men for induction. No one has been ordered to report any time after July 1."

Col. Stewart said 3,000 men will be called in the state for pre-induction physicals during July, and additional potential inductees will be called for physicals in August.

The defense department has set a figure of 16,000 inductees nationwide for July and August, and since Illinois' share usually runs about 7% of that total, the state's total is expected to be about 1,100 for those two months.

Await Legislation
However, Col. Stewart said, the state selective service system is not making any allocations for those months until the legislation renewing the draft is actually passed.

To date this year, Col. Stewart said, no one with a lottery number higher than 125 has been called, and selective service Director Dean Sweet has estimated that the ceiling this year will be 150. Last year, 195 was the top number called up.

The defense department has estimated that it can manage for up to two months with no new draftees. However, some sources close to the deadlock have privately estimated that the new bill may not be passed before the first of September.

The new draft bill under consideration extends the draft for only two years, instead of the customary four, as a preliminary to the Nixon administration's announced plan to switch to an all volunteer Army after June 30, 1973.

To achieve this, student deferments would be ended and draftees would receive a 50% pay hike, to $4,814.8 yearly. Volunteers who agree to serve three years in artillery, infantry or armor will also receive an additional $300 combat bonus, whether or not they actually go into a war zone.

Even if the volunteer army becomes a reality, Col. Stewart said, the annual lottery is ex-

The crane will be used primarily to handle powdered coal but also can be employed in handling other bulk products, Col. Smyser said. Through acquisition of the crane, the wharf should be able to move 150,000 tons of bulk materials during 1972, compared with 88,330 tons this year,

Burglars Ransack Home

The home of Robert Carroll, 2334 Spalding Ave., was ransacked in a burglary during the night while the occupants were out-of-town, it was reported at 3:15 p.m. Wednesday. Items taken were undetermined. The house was ransacked. Entry was gained by breaking a rear door glass to the family room.

75,539 tons in 1970 and 47,273 tons in 1969.

The Granite City Wharf and Public Terminal was established in 1956 with barge, rail and truck facilities. A portion of the wharf's 31,200 square feet of space is leased to Granite City Steel Co. The facility is operated for Bi-State by St. Louis Terminal Co.

New, Old Scenic Slides Needed by Jubilee Pageant

Anyone who possesses photo slides which can be used in the Granite City Diamond Jubilee pageant is being urged to bring them to the headquarters at 1300 Edison Ave. Slides needed are those of historical significance, such as old churches, schools, stores, etc. "Any scenic slides of the Granite City area as it appears now and as it appeared in the early 1900's would be appreciated."

"Please bring slides to the Jubilee headquarters, located in the 'country store' at 1300 Edison, or phone 877-8237."

Six of Top 10 Cowboys To Compete in Rodeo

Six of the "Top Ten All-Around" cowboys in world championship competition were among 124 contestants registering yesterday to compete for $2415 in prize money at the 1971 Granite City "Jaycees" "Championship Rodeo."

Three performances are scheduled—tonight, Friday and Saturday at the Tri-City Speedway, 5200 Nameoki Road, starting at 8 p.m. Tickets may be purchased at the gate.

Among the registrants are 15 women and girls, including a Granite City girl, who will match their riding skills in the exciting girls barrel race, an event new to local audiences. The hometown contestant is Lorraine Moore, an experienced barrel racing horsewoman.

So competitive are the individual events in professional rodeo today that most cowboys have been forced to concentrate their talents on just one event. Several outstanding cowboys, however, annually go in search of rodeo's most coveted title—"World Champion All-Around Cowboy," it was learned.

The International Rodeo Association sanctions rodeos in which world championship points may be tallied and assigns green and white felt numbers that represent the position an "all-round cowboy" finished in the previous year's title race.

Riders listed among the top ten cowboys who will appear here are Glen Bird, Wetherford, Tex.; Jack Wieman, Missouri City, Tex.; Ron Martin, River Ross, Ill.; Butch Reese, Webster Falls, Okla.; Ron Williams, Fort Worth, Texas; and Dexter Bailey, Okmulgee, Okla.

Port Board Re-Elects Fischer to 5th Term

Harold Fischer, Granite City bank official, was re-elected to his fifth consecutive term as chairman of the Tri-City Regional Port Authority board Monday afternoon.

The board also re-elected John Bellico of Madison as treasurer. Carl Ranft was named secretary and general manager and Randall Robertson was named as port district attorney.

Ranft reported to the board that a bill authorizing $1 million to aid the seven port districts of Illinois was approved by the General Assembly and now awaits the governor's signature.

Combined tonnage of materials handled by the National Marine Service and Bulk Service, Inc. at the Tri-City Port totaled 352,373 tons during the year ending June 30, with Bulk Service, Inc., operating for only one-quarter of the period, Ranft reported.

This compares to 133,845 tons handled during the previous 1969-70 year. Ranft reported that 1,815 rail cars moved in and out of the Port during the past year, compared to 729 the previous year, while the number of trucks operating in the Port area totaled 2,986 for the year just ended, compared to 700 for the previous year.

Station Attendant Thwarts Holdup

Richard Shaffer, an attendant at the Spartan Service Station, 2905 Edwardsville Road, thwarted a holdup when two men drove into the station and demanded money.

He told police that one, with a large Afro-American hairdo, bought a bottle of soda, displayed a knife and said "give me the money." Shaffer said he ducked behind the door inside the station and the other man said "come on Joe, let's get out of here." The bottle was thrown at Shaffer and the auto fled south without any money.

$100 Stolen from Home Betty Sanders, 2424 Ohio Ave., reported at 10:25 a.m. Wednesday that someone stole $100 from the top shelf of a closet of her home during the night. There was no forced entry.

LARGE JUBILEE TURNOUT Monday night at the kickoff of the Little Miss Jubilee competition. An estimated 250 attended to learn details of the contest. The winner will reign over the Aug. 21-28 Granite City Jubilee along with Jubilee Queen Janice Albers.

40 Enroll In 'Little Miss' Contest of GC Jubilee

Forty young aspirants to the title of "Little Miss Jubilee" enrolled in the contest to choose the Junior Granite City Diamond Jubilee queen after a contest "kickoff" meeting Monday night at the Wilson Park pavilion.

The girls, ages 3 through 12, began their campaigns to sell advance jubilee coupons in the contest which combines votes cast by coupon purchasers with "votes" collected by the candidates through the sale of the coupons. Additional "votes" may be obtained by meeting scheduled deadlines in the sale of tickets.

The contest will close at 5 p.m. Aug. 13 and the winner will be crowned in a coronation ceremony immediately preceding the first performance of the Diamond Jubilee historical pageant Monday evening, Aug. 23.

Redeem for Tickets

The girls were encouraged to enlist the support of local civic, fraternal, labor and church organizations in selling their advance coupons for $1.50 each. Each coupon may be redeemed for a $2 ticket to any performance of the historical pageant. Sponsoring groups earn a percentage of each coupon sold.

The kickoff meeting, Monday night was called to order by Barry Loman, Jubilee general chairman, who introduced Ted Ellerman, Albert H. Froemling, Donald Partney Jr. and Carl Roach, members of the Jubilee executive committee.

Mrs. Emylee Alford, chairman of the Women's Participation Committee, welcomed the girls and explained the "Little Miss Jubilee" contest. She introduced Mrs. Lily Chaboude, contest chairman, who exhibited several of the prizes the winner and her court of honor will be presented, including television, radios, and trips to Six Flags Over Mid-America amusement park.

Mrs. Bonnie Lazenby, contest publicity chairman, presented a fashion show in which clothes, donated by local merchants for prizes, were shown to the candidates.

Reads Contest Rules

Robert W. McCarty of the Rogers Co., Jubilee business manager and pageant director, read the rules of the contest for the girls and answered questions before adjourning the meeting.

Attached to each coupon is a vote stub and each completed stub is good for 1,000 votes to the selling candidate. For each book of coupons sold, the candidate receives 5,000 extra votes. An additional 25% bonus will be given on votes returned before 5 p.m. Monday and 20% on votes returned before Monday, Aug. 2. In the next week the bonus will decrease to 10% and no bonus will be allowed on votes turned in between Aug. 10 and the deadline, Aug. 13.

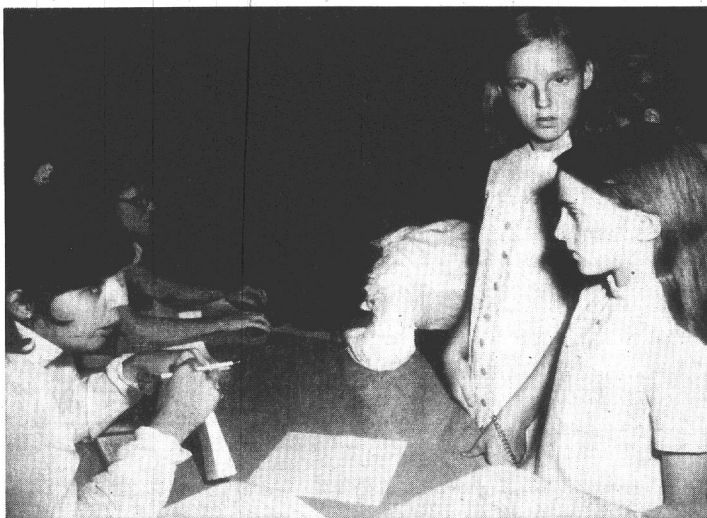

Additional votes will be cast by patron seat purchasers, each of whom has a vote privilege of 5,000 votes for the candidate of his choice. The girls may sell patron seats to those businessmen not contacted by the Patron's Ticket Committee. Patron purchasers will have their names listed in the official souvenir program booklet.

Will Post Standings

The total votes will be accumulated for each contestant at the end of each turn-in period and the standings of the top 20 girls will be posted at Jubilee Headquarters.

Girls who were unable to register at the contest at the kickoff meeting are invited to do so at Jubilee Headquarters, 1900 Edison Ave. All girls between 3 and 12 years of age, residing in Granite City are eligible.

gathering Monday evening at Wilson Park. Watching the camera is Susan Thompson, 13, a non-participant in the age 3-12 contest.

REFRESHMENTS HIGHLIGHT any party, and the Little Miss Jubilee kickoff was no exception. Mrs. Dolores Allen, a Jubilee Belle, is shown serving some of the young contestants. She is chairman of industrial women for activities of the Belles.

City Hopes to Set Rent Ceilings

JULY 22, 1946

The Granite City Council authorized establishment of a Fair Rent Control Board and instructed its attorney to determine whether the city can fix rent ceilings.

Mrs. H. V. Price, Rural Route Two, advertised a girl's bicycle for sale in the Press-Record and the next day had received 102 calls. "Unfortunately," she reported with a laugh, "the first caller bought it and I had to tell all the others it was already sold."

Members of her pinocchio club were guests of Mrs. A. M. Wilson at a party in the Wilson home, 2320 State St. Mrs. Edna Plouffe and Mrs. Henry Reimers held high scores. Mrs. James Carry will be the next hostess.

The Granite City Army Depot—pardon, we mean Headquarters, Installation Support Activities—now linked to the Army Aviation Systems Command, whose world headquarters is located in St. Louis.

Because of this association, "Avscam" is the main St. Louis military facility on Quad-City minds at present. 26 from Kennedy Space Center, Launch Pad 30A. The lunar landing site will be at Hadley Rille, 600 nautical miles northeast of the Apollo 14 landing site, Fra Mauro.

During lunar landing operations, the sun must be behind the Lunar Module and low on the horizon to optimize visibility of the landing site.

This requirement defines the "Moon Launch Window" and establishes July 26 as the optimum launch date for landing at Hadley Rille.

In addition, a "Daily Launch Window" exists which imposes further constraints. One of these, the Translunar Injection Burn, used to transfer the spacecraft from an earth parking orbit to a translunar trajectory, must occur over the moon's antipode to conserve fuel.

On board the spacecraft will be three Air Force officers: Col. David R. Scott, mission commander; Maj. Alfred N. Worden Jr., command module pilot; and Lt. Col. James B. Irwin, lunar module pilot.

Also on board and at strategic ground points will be charts and graphics produced by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration mission by the Air Force Aeronautical Chart and Information Center (ACIC), St. Louis.

The lunar landing is scheduled for July 30 at Hadley Rille with jeep-like lunar rovers en route July 31 through Aug. 2.

Cartographic material produced by the Chart Center will be used in planning, launch, trajectory, orbiting, lunar landing, lunar exploration and recovery stages of the mission.

ACIC Apollo program managers, cartographers and scientists have worked closely with NASA to provide rapid response to changing cartographic requirements.

On board the spacecraft, the astronauts will use ACIC-produced Ascent Trajectory Monitoring Charts and an Orbit Monitoring Chart.

These photo-feature charts contain ground track data, landing site data and descent and ascent time data in the approach and departure corridors, as well as orbiting information for the command module.

The lunar landing can be viewed with regard to photographic and scientific mission target requirements, by using the Lunar Orbiter Service Flight Chart.

Charts prepared for ground support include Earth Orbit Chart, Lunar Orbit Chart, Apollo to Translunar/TransEarth Trajectory Plotting Chart and Mission Control Center Projection Plotting Graphic.

These charts are used by mission control at the Manned Spacecraft Center and by NASA and Department of Defense tracking and recovery forces located throughout the world. During their 67 hours on the lunar surface, Colonels Scott and Irwin will make three excursions. While the two men explore the lunar surface, Major Worden will be orbiting the moon.

ACIC has provided charts and graphics for all NASA manned space missions since John Glenn's first orbit of the Earth in 1958.

The Apollo 15 mission profile and information pertaining to some of the NASA cartographic graphics produced by the Chart Center for support of the mission are outlined below. The detail may have some fascination for Quad-City science buffs:

Apollo 15 is scheduled to be launched at 0834 Central Daylight Time on July 26 from Kennedy Space Center, Launch Pad 30A. The lunar landing site will be at Hadley Rille, 600 nautical miles northeast of the Apollo 14 landing site, Fra Mauro.

During lunar landing operations, the sun must be behind the Lunar Module and low on the horizon to optimize visibility of the landing site.

This requirement defines the "Moon Launch Window" and establishes July 26 as the optimum launch date for landing at Hadley Rille.

In addition, a "Daily Launch Window" exists which imposes further constraints.

One of these, the Translunar Injection Burn, used to transfer the spacecraft from an earth parking orbit to a translunar trajectory, must occur over the moon's antipode to conserve fuel.

The antipode is the point on the earth's surface where a line drawn from the moon's position at planned spacecraft arrival time, through the center of the earth, will intersect the far side of the earth, i.e., the point on the earth's surface that is exactly 180 degrees opposite the moon.

Since the moon revolves around the earth and the earth is rotating on its axis, the antipode is constantly moving.

To assure the spacecraft's rendezvous with a moving target, the antipode's variable launch azimuth between 80 and 100 degrees can be used.

For the July 26 launch date, rendezvous with the antipode is planned to occur on the second revolution of an 80 degree launch azimuth two hours 50 minutes after launch, approximately 750 nautical miles southwest of Hawaii.

The Lunar Module will be on the lunar surface 66 hours and 35 minutes.

During this time, the Lunar Rover Vehicle will be used for surface exploration traverses.

Upon completion of the lunar landing and orbital mission, the TransEarth Injection Burn, as performed on the 74th lunar orbit.

Approximately two and one-half days later, landing will occur in the Pacific Ocean on Aug. 7.

So much for the flight statistics. They make it obvious that the Chart Center must be extremely thorough and accurate in its computations.

Officially stated, ACIC is a Separate Operating Agency of the Air Force, organized to provide all commands with aeronautical charts, air target materials, flight information publications, geodetic missile data, astronomical and geophysical charts, and reference materials.

Other military organizations in the Department of Defense, civil aviation and space agencies (and often U.S. allies) also use this Air Force cartographic products.

Providing the varied charts and aids—in the earth charts, maps and maps—amounts to a gigantic and challenging task requiring a wide variety and large num-

Serious Primary Fight Possible in 1972

By KEN WATSON
Copy News Service

Springfield—There is a growing feeling at the Statehouse that Illinois Democrats might just have a serious primary in 1972.

Already the words are full of governor aspirants of substance. This in itself is of significance.

For years, the practice has been for the eager ones to be coy about the situation while subtly wooing Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley, who has always made the final decision.

But herein lies the key to the comparative abundance of major candidates. There is a possibility, admittedly still remote but nevertheless distinct, that the 1972 political game may not be played by the old rules.

The Daley machine, last of its kind in the nation, is clearly in trouble. Any investigation by a federal grand jury or the Internal Revenue Service is not to be taken lightly. Investigations by both bodies now under way could have a potential impact on the Chicago Democratic organization.

Already, Daley has taken the historic step of ending compulsory contributions by patronage employees into the campaign fund. Court decisions paved the way for that.

The federal government also appears to be zeroing in on Chicago in investigations to determine just what happens to all the money raised for political campaigns.

Although it is still considered likely that Daley will again name the Democratic state ticket for 1972, it is possible that dramatic developments could cancel this or, perhaps even make such a selection less a final act than before.

It is possible that a strong independent candidate could, with some hope of success, challenge a weakened and discredited Daley machine.

That's why few at the Statehouse are taking seriously public statements by two of the major candidates, State Auditor Michael J. Howlett, and Thomas A. Foran, former federal prosecutor in Chicago, that they will abide by the slate-making process. Conditions can change and often do in politics.

Another contender, Daniel J. Walker, likewise a Chicago attorney, has flatly said he will be a candidate no matter what Daley and his statemakers do. Walker is walking northward up the state, attracting a flood of publicity, and is no longer being dismissed by the professionals as a political joke.

Li. Gov. Paul Simon, the recognized front-runner, has indicated he will abide by the slate-making rules. But if the Daley machine should falter, Simon is regarded as certain to battle in any primary free-for-all.

Beneath the Capitol dome, great significance is attached to the Simon move in hiring Tom Owens, Sangamon county Democratic chairman, as a political liaison man.

The likeable Owens could be of no help whatever in persuading Dick Daley to pick Simon for governor. Nor is any Owens wooing of his friends among Downstate county chairmen likely to have much influence on that Chicago-oriented slate-making show.

However, if there is to be a wide-open primary fight, then Tom Owens could indeed be a big help to Paul Simon. At the Statehouse, there is a feeling that this is the reason he was hired.

Venice Woman Held Captive at Home

A 29-year old Venice woman reported to police at 7 a.m. Tuesday that her former husband held her captive in her home from 1:40 p.m. Monday until Tuesday morning. She said he broke a window in a front door to gain entry. She said he cut his hand while breaking the glass in the door and left blood throughout the house. He struck her several times, assaulted her and kept her captive until 7 a.m. Tuesday morning, the woman said. She has signed a warrant charging her former husband with battery. He is being sought by Venice police.

Steel Shipments Drop For First Time in '71

Domestic steel shipments dropped in May, after rising for five straight months—their first decline during 1971.

Shipments had surged because of consumer hedgebuying against the possibility of an industry shutdown when the current steel labor contract expires at the end of July.

U. S. Producers sent 9,341,000 tons of mill products to their customers in May—down 129,000 tons from April's 9,470,000 ton total.

The sharpest May market decline was the drop of nearly a quarter of a million tons in shipments to service centers. Shipments fell 1,550,000 tons of mill products in May, compared with 1,796,000 tons during April.

Through the first five months of this year steel industry shipments had reached 42,944,000 tons, compared with a shipment total of 39,520,000 tons for the like period of 1970.

Battery Charge Dropped

A battery charge against Jose Baccera, 42, of Granite City, was dismissed Monday afternoon in the local court. He had been arrested early the same day at Baccera's Tavern, 849 Niedringhaus Ave.

Dedera Named National Healing Arts Chairman

James F. Dedera, R.Ph., of Granite City was elected chairman of the board of trustees of Delta Sigma Theta Fraternity for 1971-72. It was announced this week at a meeting of the Supreme Royal Council in New York City.

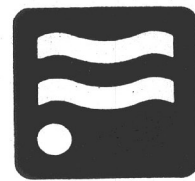

His election to the post was by unanimous vote of the six-member board as was his two-year term as a regular board member.

Dedera, a pharmacist, has been instrumental in the growth and development of the fraternity during the last eight years. He was a charter member of the chapter at the St. Louis College of Pharmacy and is an active member of its alumni chapter.

In 1963 he was the first student in the 70-year history of the fraternity to be elected to the international governing council of the fraternity. Late in 1964 he became the youngest man ever to be elected to the office of international president, a position to which he was re-elected for three consecutive terms. Responsible for initiating intensive work in the fraternity in the unification of the health professions, Dedera recently has been active in the area of drug abuse education and is director of the drug abuse education committee of the fraternity and the coordinator of its training and lecture series in the Midwest.

Dedera has spent many hours in speaking engagements, especially in New York and Boston. He is a 1963 graduate of the St. Louis College of Pharmacy, a registered pharmacist in Missouri and Illinois and is a member of the American Pharmaceutical Association, the American Academy of General Practice, the Illinois Pharmaceutical Association and the Alumni Association of the College of Pharmacy. He is employed in East Alton and resides at 1436 Madison Ave.

Local Girl Scouts to Camp At New Center in Wyoming

A two-week camping trip to the Girl Scout National Center West in Ten Sleep, Wyo., begins this Saturday, July 24, for Valorie Woolfolk of Madison Senior Troop 396 and Rita Anne Ahlers, a member of Senior Troop 117 of Granite City.

They are among eight teenage Girl Scouts from the 5½ county River Bluffs Girl Scout Council who will be camping with a special patrol at the Granite City PRESS-RECORD Page 26 Thurs., July 22, 1971 mountain center near Yellowstone Park. Their trip is financed by a Reader's Digest Foundation Grant, with the local Scout Council supplying training and camping equipment.

The girls were chosen on the basis of good citizenship at school, in their Scout troop and the community.

The "know how" in trip planning, camping and traveling they receive on the "Wyoming trek" will be shared with their own troops and other troops on their return.

Rugged, scenic setting The Foundation grant enabled the national Girl Scout organization to send girls of widely different backgrounds from throughout the U.S. to the new Wyoming Center. The Center is located in Ten Sleep Canyon, a rugged but scenic setting.

It is staffed by professional consultants in camping, hiking and backpacking, horseback riding, Western lore, conservation, archeology and nature study.

The patrols financed by the grant will share the center throughout the summer with troops which have earned their way to the Wyoming Center, as well as individual Girl Scouts and leaders involved in special national programs.

The special patrols, their leadership and their local council will furnish the national scout office with reports on their selection, training and the Wyoming trek. The goal is to give both local and national Girl Scout leadership a fresh outlook on how to best serve the needs and interests of today's teen age Girl Scout.

Colorado Sight Seeing The River Bluffs patrol includes Cadette and Senior Girl Scouts from Granite City, Madison, East St. Louis, Alton, Highland and Lebanon.

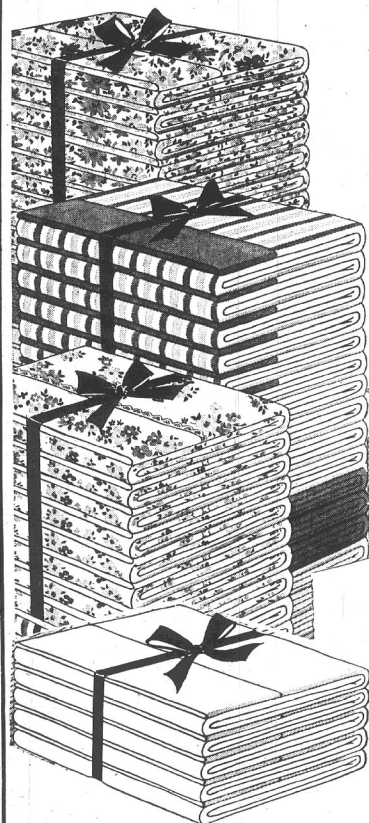

They are flying from St. Louis to Worland, Wyoming, where they will go by bus to the Center in Ten Sleep Canyon.

On the return part of their two-week trip, they will stop in Denver to sightsee in the Colorado state capital and also take a 10-hour circle bus tour of the Rocky Mountain National Park, Grand Lake, Trail Ridge Road and Estes Park area.

WYOMING TREK TRAINING SESSION at the Cahokia Mounds State Park for (left to right) Nancy Adams, East St. Louis, Rita Anne Ahlers, Granite City, Dixie Daum, Highland, and Valorie Woolfolk, Madison. They will begin a two-week camping trip to the Girl Scout National Center West in Ten Sleep, Wyo., on Saturday.

Springfield—With the help of Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie's housekeeping General Services Department, State School Supt. Michael Bakalis has saved taxpayers nearly $30,000 a year by reducing the cost of office rental.

Under a new contract, Bakalis will pay $417,661 during the fiscal year to rent office space in three privately-owned buildings in Springfield. During the previous fiscal year, Bakalis's predecessor, Ray Page, paid $435,489 for the same three structures.

The difference amounts to a net savings of $27,828 a year. The savings resulted after Bakalis's staff, with assistance from General Services' space rental experts, renegotiated the contracts with owners of the buildings.

The Page contracts with the private lessors called for the state to pay a square-footage fee in addition to costs such as janitorial services, elevator maintenance, window washing, insect control, fire extinguishers and utilities. Under the new management, the owners must pay all "extras" except janitorial services, which the state will take care of.

Lease Cost Comparisons The new pact was agreed to by the owners only after Bakalis aides and hard-bargaining GC officials insisted on the basis that no other state-leased structures in the capital city ran as high as the Page leases.

Figures to back up the state argument were supplied by GS Director Frank Resnik; Harry Bietich, head of space rental for GS; and Paul Hewitt, executive director of the Legislative Space Needs Commission and former GS space rental boss. Representing Bakalis at bargaining sessions were his brother, office counsel George Bakalis, and physical services chief William Becker.

The superintendent's main office is on the third floor of the State Office Building. However, because of space needs and insufficient state-owned room, the office must — like many other state agencies — rent space from private landlords.

According to GS officials, there are two million square feet of space in state-owned buildings in Springfield, including the Capitol Complex. But the state leases at least $80,000 square feet of space, which adds up to several million dollars a year.

Shortcuts to Trimming Pounds? Lots of Them

By STEVE CASEY
Copley News Service

Summer usually heralds new overbursts of physical activity, as winter-fattened bodies are trimmed and toned for a season on the beach.

This year, perhaps more than others, exercise seems to be taking a new direction. Americans are looking for the maximum results with the minimum energy.

And there is a host of products to satisfy their needs. They come under the general heading "effortless exercising," ranging in cost from about $3 to several hundred dollars and all claim to be "fun."

Observers on the health scene say few of them do one whit of good.

Breathes there a woman with vanity so dead that once to herself she never has said, "I've gotta slim my thighs before I get into a bathing suit?"

Or a desk-bound executive who never has gone to the beach and kept his shirt on? The affluent society, which eats far more than it needs to eat for survival and usually limits its exercise to strolls down the driveway to the family buggy or short sprints between television set and refrigerator, is upstaged about its lard.

Many Americans dread the thought of a day on the beach because they are dumpy. Fat, even.

But, hark! Help is here for those with thighs that jiggle, or stomachs that look like balloons, or relief maps of the Western Hemisphere.

Help, of course, has been here for some time — but not in such wild proliferation.

Books, gadgets, weights, gismos, belts, machines, systems and all manner of ingenious devices tumble from an industrial cornucopia.

Home exercise equipment alone rings American cash registers to the tune of about $100 million a year.

If you believe the claims, just having these exotic "effortless" push, pull, jerk and yank machines in the house would, it seems, keep you slim, athletic, young and virile. Forget diet. Forget hard work.

Double chin? There are goosy wraps for that. $10. Fat calves? Try flapping your feet on a couple of wooden pedals, $12.98.

Thighs bulging a bit? "Slimmer Belts" — nothing more, or less, than thigh girdles — are yours for a mere nine bucks.

Wherever you bulge, rest assured that somewhere there's a device that can help you. There's one that hasn't been invented yet.

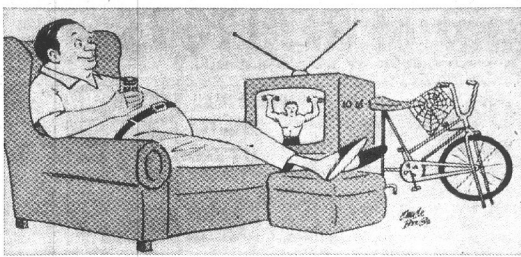

"The machine that would really do the job is one that would push you away from the supper table," said one store salesman in charge of contraptions.

But, she said, she has sold many gadgets — and even contraptions — to her customers, an erator, is upstaged about its lard.

Now, the object of this gadget is to get down on the floor on your knees, grasp the handles, push down on the wheel and roll back and forth.

Fun, huh? If it sounds silly, don't worry. It's only $2.79.

On the other end of the price scale are electronic vibrating belts, deluxe exercycles and

IT MAY BE MORE FUN to sit and watch television, letting dust and cobwebs settle on one's exercise bicycle. But reversing the priority and spending leisure time on the exercycle (perhaps while watching television) can lead to better health and longer life, authorities say.

assorted units of technological wizardry that command as much as $300 a whack.

In local stores, however, these are difficult to find. But a tableful of devices await the porky housewife in ski slacks or the white-collar worker with office chair spread who's looking to spend $10-30.

She said one of them held a knife on her as they took the purse containing $2.10 and car keys. She said the boys were 17 to 18 and wearing regular-type shirts and bell bottom trousers.

Home From Seminar At Lexington, Ky.

Dr. and Mrs. Leo A. Roman of Granite City returned during the weekend from Lexington, Ky. where Dr. Roman attended the Eighth Global Evaluation and Rehabilitation Seminar, conducted under auspices of the Multidisciplinary Institute of Lexington at Spindletop Research Center.

Those in attendance were from the fields of education, remedial reading, special education teachers; nurses, child psychologists, pediatricians, medical and optometric professionals.

"All the theories and training techniques evolved from all the various fields and sources were put into their proper perspective within the overall framework of the individual, when viewed from a modern day holistic standpoint," Dr. Roman said. All schools of thought (Montessori, etc.) and individual philosophies were covered and their interrelationships demonstrated with particular emphasis on rehabilitation and remediation.

The lectures were conducted by Dr. James R. Watkins, Institute Director, and other members of the Institute staff.

On the other end of the price scale are electronic vibrating belts, deluxe exercycles and

Grant Is Approved to Study Year-Round School In State

Valley View School District 96, Lockport, Ill., has just received notice from the Chicago Regional U.S. Office of Education that a funding grant has been approved to conduct a year-round school feasibility study.

The study, entitled "Feasibility Study of the 45-15 Plan for Year-Round Operations of a Public High School Served by an Elementary District Already on the 45-15 Plan," will run through June 1972.

James R. Gove, assistant superintendent of schools, who will be directing the study, noted that "the Valley View district has been operating under the 45-15 Year-Round School Plan since June 30, 1970."

According to Gove, the 45-15 Plan has already brought about a $7,500,000 tax avoidance for taxpayers in the northern Illinois elementary district.

"Is the 45-15 Plan feasible for high schools? This study will help tell the story," he added.

Capacity developed. Valley View developed the 45-15 Plan to solve needed space problems. The plan gave the district one-third more buildings without laying the first brick.

The Valley View 45-15 Continuous School Year Plan is a method of assigning pupils, building facilities and staff members.

By more efficient use of the physical plant, by more extensive use of the personnel, and by a more equal distribution of pupil class attendance throughout the year, the school district anticipates a saving in building construction costs, a longer working year for some certified and non-certified employees (with corresponding increases in income) and quality education for the student body.

The plan has been cited as educationally sound, financially desirable and legally possible. "It was developed in District 96 and should not be confused with other scheduling systems," Gove stressed. He explained it as follows:

1) Saturdays and Sundays, all Illinois legal holidays, a week at Christmas, a week at Easter and a period of five to nine class days in July (as an adjusting period) are designated as school closing times.

Five Year Calendar

prepared to insure that the pupil schedules are in logical segments. When classes are not in session, however, the buildings could be open for maintenance, athletic events, community activities and library service.

All provisions of the Illinois "Monday holiday bill" are observed.

2) All district pupils are placed in one of four groups (A, B, C or D), according to the small neighborhood in which they live.

3) The four groups request differently, all children in the same family are placed on the same attendance schedule, even though the children may be at different grade levels or at different buildings.

4) District 96 enrollment has increased at an exceptional rate and will continue to do so. Electronic data-processing facilities provided necessary in the scheduling process.

5) On June 24, 1970, the teachers and staff members for Group A began a four-day teacher institute. On June 30, 1970, the pupils in Group A began classes.

6) These pupils attended for 45 class days then had a 15-class day vacation (three weeks); four such cycles will give the pupil 180 class days per school year and calendar year.

7) Group B staff members had a four-day institute immediately prior to the beginning of classes for Group B. Group B pupils began classes on July 21, 1970, which was 15 class days after Group A began.

8) Group C staff members had a four-day institute after which Group C pupils began classes on Aug. 11, 1970. At this time, three of the four groups of pupils were in school and one group was on vacation.

9) With the ending of the four groups of pupils were in school and one group was on vacation. On Aug. 31, the pupils in this group had completed one fourth of a school year, and these pupils began a 15-class-day vacation.

The next day, Sept. 1, 1970, Group D pupils occupied the space occupied by the Group A pupils.

In this way, each group attended 45 class days and then had a 15-class-day vacation (in addition to the school closings

MARILYN HORNE. She will be in the Mississippi River Festival musical spotlight at an "evening of opera" Saturday at SIU-SW.

'Evening of Opera' at Festival Saturday Features Marilyn Horne

An Evening of Opera will be presented at the Mississippi River Festival at SIU-SW Saturday, July 24. Special guest artist with the St. Louis Symphony orchestra, conducted by Walter Susskind, will be Marilyn Horne, soprano.

Cited as the Metropolitan Opera's newest prima donna, Miss Horne first appeared at the Met in March 1969.

The program for the evening will include Verdi, Overture, "La Forza del Destino", Mascagni, intermezzo from "Cavalleria Rusticana"; Puccini, Dance of the Hours from "La Gioconda"; Rossini, Non Terrem d'un Basso Affetto from "Siege of Corinth"; Bizet, Suite from "Carmen"; Meyerbeer, Ah Non Fils from "La Prophete"; and Noble Siegmund from "Les Huguenots"; Saint-Saens, My Heart at thy Sweet Voice from "Samson and Delilah"; and Rossini overture, "William Tell."

Miss Horne was born in Pennsylvania and grew up in Los Angeles. Her first teacher was her father.

Later she attended the University of Southern California, where she studied under a scholarship and majored in singing. Thereafter, she attended master classes conducted by Lotte Lehmann.

U.S. European Tours Among the first to present her was the Los Angeles Philharmonic.

harmonic Orchestra. Since that time, she has appeared with almost every major orchestra in the United States.

From 1956-60 she made appearances throughout Europe.

This September she will open the Lyric Opera of Chicago as the Babylonian General Arsace in Rossini's opera, "Semiramide." During May and June of this year, she sang Rosina with the Royal Opera House Covent Garden.

During the coming season, Marilyn Horne will make three appearances at Carnegie Hall. On Nov. 10 she will sing the role of Elizabeth, for the first time, in a special concert version of Act II of Wagner's "Tannhauser" with the New Jersey Symphony.

In January 1972, she will again appear at Carnegie Hall when she sings the role of Sieglinde in Wagner's "Die Walkure" with the Pittsburgh Symphony. In April 1972, she will give her only New York recital with piano.

Tickets for the Festival, partially funded by the Missouri and Illinois Arts Councils, can be purchased at Powell Symphony Hall, St. Louis, the ticket office at the SIU-SW University Center and the American National Bank.

Price for lawn seating is $2. Seats under the MRF tent range from $2.50 to $5.50.

Effectiveness of University Boards May Be Challenged

By RAY SERATI
Copley News Service

Springfield — For the past two years the financing of higher education has caused a great deal of discussion in the Illinois General Assembly.

But if a resolution, which is now in the House, is adopted there in October, perhaps a great portion of the hand-writing can be cut out. The resolution, which has been adopted in the Senate, is sponsored by Sen. William C. Harris, R-Pontiac.

It calls for establishment of a 16-member bi-partisan Joint Legislative Study Committee to study and inquire into the effectiveness of the various boards comprising the system of higher education in Illinois.

This would include the Board of Higher Education, the Junior College Board, the Board of Trustees of the University of Illinois, the Board of Trustees of Southern Illinois University, the Board of Governors of State Colleges and Universities and the Board of Regents.

The resolution states, BEFORE VACATION Have Your Tires CHECKED, ROTATED and BALANCED WELLS TRI-CITY TIRE CO. 2248 Madison, Granite City 877-1572

"The General Assembly believes that this system should be evaluated from the standpoint of determining whether or not it is administratively effective and economically sound in view of its demands upon limited state revenues."

The proposed committee would be made up of 16 members from the Senate and House.

Recent cuts by Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie in the financing of the state's higher education program brought criticism from some quarters. When the cuts were first proposed, they also caused some problems in the General Assembly.

This is the same route that was taken a few years ago by public aid and mental health.

Cuts in spending in these two programs brought heavy criticism for the governor who happened to be in office at the time.

Then, finally, someone struck on the idea of forming a legislative committee to see just what the needs were in these two areas.

This led to the forming of permanent legislative advisory committees. The public aid advisory committee, headed by Sen. William Carroll, R-Park Ridge, has proven to be quite effective.

This is the same thing that could happen for higher education. If so, a great deal of the wrestling with higher education finances might be eliminated, especially in the legislature.

Regional Report--Record Steel Shipments, Merger Study

(Illinois Metro East Industrial Development Corporation)

A new all-time record in steel tonnage shipped was reported in the second quarter by Granite City Steel Co. The company recorded an increase in net income to 26 cents per common share.

A proposed Granite City Steel and National Steel merger of July 31 has been postponed for two weeks to allow the U. S. Justice Department additional time to review the proposed action.

In other industrial development news, Alton Box Board's new four-story corporate headquarters building was declared officially operative when Mayor Paul Lenz joined company officials in dedication ceremonies. The building, at Fourth and Alton Streets, Alton, has 55,000 feet of floor space and will house about 160 company officers, department heads and office workers.

The public hearings on the proposed metropolitan airport to be built near Columbia will be held on Aug. 16 and 17. The first hearing will be at Waterloo High School and the second in the Belle-Claire Exposition Hall in Belleville.

Interested citizens who wish to comment on the project should request time from the St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority, which currently has an office at SIU-SW.

Plans were announced this week for extensive construction and refurbishment of the Ritz Theater in Belleville. Hopefully, by the end of the year, a second motion picture theater will be opened on the second floor of the theater building. It will seat about 100 persons and permit showing of two entirely different programs simultaneously.

The present Ritz Theater will be remodeled. Both twin theaters will be equipped for automated projection handling 35-mm. and 16-mm. film.

In East Alton, the Fischer Lumber Co. has started work on a combination store and warehouse building. Work on the project is expected to be completed by Dec. 21. To make way for the new buildings, and to provide adequate parking space for customers, five old buildings on the premises are being razed.

In labor news, a week-long strike by about 300 employees of the Pfizer, Inc., Minerals, Pigments and Metals Division, East St. Louis, remained unsettled.

A temporary injunction to bar Clark Oil Co. dealers from picketing Clark Oil & Refining Corp. installations, in Wood River was issued by the court. Members of the Clark Oil Dealers Association, Inc., have been picketing the company's Wood River refinery and several service stations in Madison and St. Clair Counties in a dispute over contract terms.

The Metro-East Labor Council, the agency which recruits highway construction trainees to meet provisions of the Metro-East Plan, contends a conspiracy is developing to drive it out of business.

The heart of the argument is whether the hiring guidelines require that a percentage of highway work forces must be trainees, or whether the percentage must only be of minority group members, who might not be trainees and might not have any connection to the Labor Council.

Three area highway projects are among 113 for which bids are being received by the Illinois Division of Highways. The projects are a grade separation structure to carry Illinois 13 over the Illinois Central Railroad one mile southeast of New Athens, rehabilitation of the pumping station at the sub-way carrying U. S. 50 under the Alton & Southern Railroad bridge in East St. Louis, and the cleaning and painting of steel on four bridges in St. Clair and Madison Counties.

In general area news, representatives of several vocational programs testified before the Granite City School District Illinois Advisory Council on Vocational Education that East St. Louis needs a comprehensive vocational center instead of several splintered programs existing now; Chief Circuit Judge Richard T. Carter signed an order approving annexation of the bulk of the French Village area to Fairview Heights. Col. Billy Odneal has been installed as commanding officer of Headquarters, Installation and Support Activity Base for the Army Aviation Systems Command, formerly the Granite City Army Depot; and Columbia's three-day annual Strassenfest was held in Turner Park.

Propose Study on Sr. Citizen Need For Bus Fare Cut

The Bi-State Development Agency has filed an application with the Urban Mass Transportation Administration of the Department of Transportation for a demonstration grant of $50,000 to permit an in-depth analysis of the needs of senior citizens in the metropolitan area.

This grant also would be utilized to inaugurate a reduced cash fare and/or special service for a six-month controlled experiment.

Col. R. E. Smyser Jr., executive director of the Bi-State Development Agency, in a letter to Carlos C. Villarreal, UMTA administrator, said, "For many years now, this agency has been aware of the fact that the continuing escalation of our transit fares—occasioned by falling ridership and combined with increased costs for labor and supplies—has been imposing an increasingly heavy burden upon senior citizens living on fixed incomes. We have tried to help this group."

"In 1966, this agency instituted an off-peak discount pass which now sells for $3 and is good for unlimited riding Monday through Saturday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. and at any time on Sundays and specified holidays.

Occasional Bus Riders "Unfortunately, the discount pass has apparently not solved the problem for the majority of senior citizens. Many are only occasional riders.

"For others, the relatively higher first cost of discount passes—and the possibility of actual monetary losses on discount passes through inability to take full advantage of its possibilities due to sickness and inclement weather—make them reluctant to make the necessary investment.

"An obvious problem for the agency in establishing a reduced cash fare for senior citizens is that, without an operating subsidy, revenue losses occasioned by reduced fares for one group of riders must be made up by increased fares to other riders."

The grant application calls for a cash fare of 20 cents on a six-month trial basis.

At the end of the six-month trial period, the study is to determine if a permanent subsidy will be required, if the demonstration has not been successful in terms of increasing ridership sufficiently to offset the difference in fares received.

Venice Open House Set

The Venice School District will hold an open house for the head start and summer school programs from 10 a.m. to noon Wednesday, July 28, at the grade school. Displays prepared by the children will be on hand.

Miss Bobetta Wiser is Married at Mineola, Mo.

Miss Bobetta Maria Wiser and Richard E. McChrissy exchanged wedding vows July 10 in a ceremony taking place at the Baptist Church in Mineola, Mo.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Wiser, 2200 Cardinal Ave., and Mr. and Mrs. G. O. McChrissy of Montgomery City, Mo.

White gladioli and orchid mums banked the altar for the evening ceremony performed by the Rev. Fred Davis.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her wedding a gown of tulle with full sleeves and delicate tear drop cotton Venice lace trim on the transparent yoke. The sleeves and cuffs of the Empire waist were embellished with heavy ovals of lace and a removable chapel train of organza was outlined and centered with lace and held in place with a large organza bow. The bride held a cascade arrangement of white roses centered with an orchid.

Preceding the service, Mrs. Mary Bell Starkey sang "The Wedding Prayer," accompanied at the organ by Ronnie Davis.

Miss Martha Wiser, an aunt of the bride, was maid of honor, and Miss Jo Ann Wiser, the bride's sister, and Miss Pat McChrissy, a sister of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids.

Dressed alike, the attendants wore in floor-length gowns of lilac silk organza over tulle with full gathered skirts. The plain bodices had high necks and long, full sleeves. They were trimmed with heavy white lace daisies centered with pearls.

The bibbed fronts and backs had inserts of lace and lilac velvet ribbons with bows and streamers at the waists. Their headpieces were orchid veils with white and orchid mums tied with orchid ribbon.

A little flower girl, Vicki Wiser, dressed like the older attendants, carried a basket of white and orchid flowers. David Wiser was ring bearer.

Larry Bros was best man, and groomsmen and ushers included David Barnes, Gary Windsor, Charles Hull and Victor Wiser.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Wiser selected a purple dress. The bridegroom's mother was in light green. Both wore white accessories and orchid corsages.

The reception was held in the church basement directly after the ceremony with Miss Jane Wiser in charge of the guest register.

The newly married pair is residing in Montgomery City.

The former Miss Wiser is a 1970 graduate of Granite City High School. Mr. McChrissy is employed in Montgomery City. He is a graduate of the high school there.

Attending the wedding from this area, beside the bride's parents, were Mr. and Mrs. Victor Wiser, Mrs. Ellen Hull and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hull and their children, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wiser and children, Mrs. Charlotte Wiser and children and Mrs. Mary Cook and daughter.

Appropriations Exceed Expected State Income by $259 Million

By GOV. RICHARD B. OGILVIE

Illinois state government requires a lot more money than your family budget, but it operates on the same principle. And every year at this time, as we start adding up the bills sent to us by the General Assembly, we have to put that principle to work.

If you have ever struggled over reconciling the monthly bills with the family checkbook, you know the principle well: You can't spend money you don't have — or that you don't have some assurance of getting soon.

That elementary economic fact has been impressed upon me this year more forcefully than ever, for the General Assembly passed bills appropriating $259 million more than our expected income during the next 12 months.

There were some other factors, too, which make our financial bind especially tight this year.

We've been a little slower recovering from the economic recession than we had expected, so tax receipts are off a fraction.

In addition, Congress has stubbornly refused to give any financial help to the states, so money we had planned on from that source apparently won't be forthcoming.

On top of it all is the welfare mess: the cost of which has been going up at the rate of about 30% each year — and shows no signs of slowing up.

What this all means is that Illinois began the new fiscal year, on July 1, with only $25 million in the bank.

If that sounds like a lot, let me put it this way: It's as if a family with an annual income of $10,000 began the year — a year ago to be filled with expensive medical bills, home improvements and other necessary items — with no more than $65 put away for a rainy day.

It was against this background of grim necessity that I began the difficult task of making our budget fit our income.

Approached at Rail Crossing, Assaulted

William Fedyk, St. Louis, reported at 10:45 p.m. Monday that while he was stopped at the rail crossing at West 28th Street and Missouri Avenue, two men asked for a light and when told his auto lighter did not work, he was struck in the face with an unknown object.

Fedyk reported he went to the emergency room at St. Elizabeth Hospital for treatment of one and two-inch cuts about the left eye. He described one assailant as being 40 to 45, with light hair and wearing a blue shirt, and the other as being 25 to 30, with dark hair and wearing a white T-shirt.

Wm. Ebrecht Promoted to Sergeant in Vietnam

Wayne Painter, 2124 Benton St., reported Monday that someone stole an undetermined amount of tools from the trunk of his auto after July 5. They were valued at about $500.

Social Security Payments to Madison Countyans Top $3.2 Million Monthly

Social Security benefits were paid to residents of Madison County at the rate of $3,294,000 a month at the close of 1970, according to Charles J. Bruner, acting district manager in East St. Louis.

A benefit increase signed into law on March 17 raised the monthly rate of payment by 10% for most of the social security beneficiaries in Madison County, Bruner added. A small number of beneficiaries over age 72 who are not receiving regular social security benefits will get a 5% increase.

The increased benefit amounts were made retroactive to Jan. 1, 1971, and the new monthly rate reached beneficiaries on June 3rd, Bruner said.

Of the social security beneficiaries living in Madison County, 19,120 are retired workers and their dependents. Another 8,219 are receiving benefits as survivors of workers who have died, and 2,827 are getting benefits as disabled workers or their dependents.

Bruner pointed out that although most social security ity beneficiaries are those who are receiving benefits as disabled workers. Social security disability payments can be paid to a person who becomes disabled for work even if he has less than 5 years of work under social security. As little as 1 1/2 years of work is required in the case of a worker who becomes disabled before age 24, Bruner said.

young people, severely handicapped by physical or mental disabilities, will continue indefinitely. Benefits are also payable to their mothers if the disabled son or daughter is in the mother's care.

Bruner said that another relatively small, but significant group of youthful social security beneficiaries are older people, about one out of every four is under age 60. In Illinois, 263,103 people are collecting social security payments each month. Nearly 146,811 are under age 18, receiving payments because a working father or mother died, or is getting social security disability or retirement benefits.

Most of the 26,994 beneficiaries in Illinois between 18 and 22 years of age are getting students' benefits under a provision in the social security law permitting the continuation of a child's benefits beyond his 18th birthday, and up to age 22, if the child is attending school full time.

Also, in this 18-22 age group, Bruner said, are some other types of beneficiaries, illustrating the broad family protection that social security provides workers of all ages. A number are children of retired, disabled, or deceased workers who became disabled before they reached 18 and who will probably never be able to work and become self-supporting.

A Madison youngster is preparing to leave today for Rockton, Ill., where she will compete tomorrow and Saturday against children, most of whom are several years older, in the statewide "Our Little Miss" contest.

Girls competing in the "Our Little Miss" division at the state contest will represent most counties in Illinois. Their ages range from seven to 12 years.

State contestants must model sportswear and party dresses and perform a talent sequence. The local youngster will play the violin and also sing and dance to a country-western number.

Attentive Audience Greet Performers

A roomful of small, restless children became a fascinated audience last week at Washington School as they watched the "big" fifth and sixth grade students perform musical numbers from several Broadway shows.

Today, the 13 members of a special interest class in music and drama will repeat their applause-winning performance for youngsters at Emerson Grade School, it was learned. The audience again will consist of children who attend Head Start pre-kindergarten and Title One classes and those enrolled in the Granite City School District's summer school program.

Those viewing the 45-minute show last week also included a sprinkling of parents and youngsters who take part in the Granite City Park District's recreational series at the Washington playground center.

The youthful artists presenting the "Hello Broadway" show are students in the special music and drama class being conducted at Washington School under the supervision of Miss Carole Humphreys. They enjoy learning their roles and the enthusiastic reaction of the audience, the teacher noted.

Dear Nana--'I'm Too Young for the Role,' Grandmother-to-Be Believes

By JACKIE STEFANICH
Copley News Service

Dear Nana:

Being a grandmother yourself and around the elderly so much, you've probably been asked this question before. I'm expecting a baby in December. It will be the first grandchild on both sides of the family.

Everyone in the family is happy and pleased about this blessed event except my mother. She says she's too young to be a grandmother and flatly refuses to be called grandmother.

My husband thinks my mother is being very childish in this matter.

He says she's going to be a grandmother regardless and has nothing to do with her age. And my husband also thinks she should be happy to be called grandmother.

The other night mother and my husband got into an awful argument over this and it upset me terribly.

Although I agree with my husband, I also know my mother and I can't change her.

What can I do to please them both?

Blessed Event

Dear Blessed Event:
Above all you shouldn't be worrying about something like this during this time.

There are many prospective grandmothers who have felt like your mother does but they change when the little one arrives.

However, I would suggest your mother and your husband compromise by selecting a cute nickname for grandmother. And even though your mother and everyone else knows she's a grandmother, camouflaging this time in life seems to please those who resent becoming grandmothers.

Some of the foreign words for grandmother make cute nicknames. And Nana has been an old standby for a great many years.

My mother was the original Nana in our family and she would like to honor to me when I became a grandmother. Now we have a great Nana and a Nana. Our grandchildren don't have a bit of trouble with these titles.

Why don't you let your mother pick her own name for grandmother? I'm sure this would please her immensely.

Dear Nana:

I know that most of the younger generation think we oldsters are all bothersome, senile or we just plain don't know anything.

But, I've just got to get your opinion on this. I know I'm right in what I did but I guess I need to have someone agree with me.

The other day I overheard my daughter and a group of her friends gossiping about someone in the neighborhood. The things they said about this poor girl were cruel and malicious.

I don't even know the person they were talking about but I was so ashamed of my daughter to think she'd stoop to such gossip and appear to thoroughly enjoy hearing such tripe.

After her friends left I told my daughter how I felt about gossipers and we had an awful argument over it. She wasn't brought up to do these things and I still think anyone who tells tales is a horribly mean person.

Was I right in telling my daughter what I thought? We've been rather strained since this happened.

Outspoken

Dear Outspoken:

So far as I'm concerned you were right in telling your daughter exactly how you feel about those who gossip.

And regardless of whether their tales are true or not someone is bound to be hurt by them.

I'm afraid your only crime was eavesdropping.

Your daughter should be more choosy in picking her friends. She might be the target next time. Malicious gossipers don't care who their subject is.

Dear Nana:

My mother is in a very nice rest home but they're having a problem with her.

I certainly hope you can give me a solution to this problem because I don't want to have to move her. I seriously doubt that I could find another rest home in our area as nice as this one. My mother has a private room and shares a bath with another lady. And as long as she stays in her room she's OK.

However, my mother can't seem to remember which room and bath are hers so she's always in another patient's room. I'm sure this is annoying but I don't know how to help my mother remember which room is hers.

Can you offer any advice on this matter? I'm sure you've had similar problems like this in your rest home. And, I'll be glad to try anything that will help my mother remember which room is hers.

Wrong Room

Dear Wrong Room:

This is a problem that happens quite often in a rest home if some patients are forgetful. And, although I can't tell another rest home owner how to run his business, I do have a suggestion that you might recommend to him. Whenever this situation arises in our rest home we put a number or a flower on the door of the patient's room and a similar number and flower on the bathroom they're to use.

I can't guarantee it will work in your mother's case, but being able to associate with something that's there seems to help a great deal. And I'm sure the owners of the rest home wouldn't object to your

Two Student Council Workshops Planned

Two workshops for the Illinois Association of Student Councils will be held in the coming weeks at McKendree College, according to Ronald R. Ganschmeier, Workshop Director. The first session will run from July 25 through the 30. The second will begin Aug. 8 and end Aug. 12.

About 125 high school leaders from Illinois will attend each workshop for the purpose of improving their leadership skills in student council work. The programs are sponsored by the Illinois Association of Student Councils. Dues from about 400 member schools help to defray the expenses of the program sanctioned by the Illinois High School Assn.

Trip to Canada For 16 Retarded At Dixon School

By JOAN MURARO
Copley News Service

Springfield — Sixteen young retarded male patients from the Dixon State School represented Illinois in the 1971 National Hockey League's floor hockey tournament in Toronto, Canada, under sponsorship of the Chicago Blackhawks.

The boys, all 15 to 17 years old, were selected by the Northwestern Illinois Athletic League for Trainable Mentally Handicapped Youth.

The Blackhawks, runner-up this year for the Stanley Cup, sponsored the Dixon team and paid all expenses, including transportation, food, lodging, uniforms, shoes and protective headgear.

In addition, Chicago Blackhawks star Bill Hayton coached the team, which was visited during its Toronto stay by Canadian Prime Minister Pierre El-Liot Trudeau.

Ferry Ride, Castle Tour
Not only did the handicapped young players participate in the tournament, but they were taken on a ferryboat ride, and visited Castle Loma.

Director of Activity Therapy James Hohm said that floor hockey is a sport played on a gym floor rather than on ice, with six players on each team. There are two goals and the object of the game is to put a felt-covered, donut-shaped puck into the opposing team's goal.

Instead of hockey sticks, the players move the puck up and down the floor with sticks similar to broomsticks, by placing the stick in the hole in the puck.

Participants wear protective headgear and gloves to protect their hands, while goalies use regulation hockey goal sticks, face masks and leg gear.

Spokesmen for the State Department of Mental Health said the trip typified a new attitude about patient care in the state's institutions for the mentally handicapped, where a few years ago the only trip a resident might make was from one side of the institution to the other.

11% Minority Employment at University Here

Of all civil service employees at the southwestern campus of Southern Illinois University, 11.56% are black. The information was provided to SIU trustees by John Flamer in a report of equal employment at SIU-SW and development of the campus "Affirmative Action" program.

He said that money will always be a crucial factor in developing learners and training programs at the university. "It's one thing to have an Affirmative Action program, but it does little good to have to have a program if there is no money to carry it out."

The report centered around non-academic personnel, but Flamer did say that 11% of those in academic positions also are members of minorities. In the civil service category, there are 322 women employed and 65 of those are black for a percentage of 20.6%. There are 381 total male employees, of which 18 are black for a 4.7% total.

Training Projects
Flamer said SIU-SW is taking an active role in jobs for minorities both inside and outside of the university. It is providing jobs through learners and training programs, and individuals from the university are active outside the campus community in the Metro-East Labor Council, an organization working in training projects for highway construction under Illinois Governor Richard B. Ogilvie's plan.

Flamer went on to say that through the Metro-East Council and other efforts, the university is able to determine the minority work forces and find out how many major construction projects are being done in the two-county area of St. Clair and Madison.

He said this information is important to the university so that when construction and contracts come up, SIU-SW will be able to find black workers. A report on Affirmative Action on the Carbondale campus also was presented and trustees, in a motion, reaffirmed their intent for SIU to be a leader in hiring of minorities.

City Employee Pacts Due for New Look by Mayor, Council Members

Terms of fringe benefit packages agreed upon between the Special Negotiating Committee of the Granite City Council and unions representing city employees may face rough going before receiving final council approval, it was indicated during the regular council meeting Monday night.

While a majority of the council approved "tentative" pacts reached between the unions and the negotiating committee, some terms of the agreements were termed excessive and "out of line" by some aldermen.

Mayor Donald Partney said he will compile the detailed cost of fringe benefits before they are included in final contracts and said if necessary "I will not hesitate to veto any items for which it appears there is no money in the budget." The council approved a record high budget in Monday night's meeting, setting up projected expenditures of $3,819,803.

Adoption of the 1971-72 budget was delayed from the council's July 5 meeting because of protests by several aldermen that they had not seen reports by the negotiating committee in on results of negotiations with the union leaders, and since the cost of fringe benefits must be included in the budget, such reports should be considered before the budget was adopted.

Draw More Protest

Alderman Thomas Boker, chairman of the Finance Committee which presented the budget and chairman of the negotiating committee, presented the reports in Monday's meeting. They drew even more fire than in the session two weeks previous.

Alderman S. M. Whitmer pointed out that in the agreement with the Police Department Local, extensive concessions had been made in allowance of overtime payment. For example, Whitmer said, one point of that agreement provides that a policeman working on a holiday receives double and one-quarter time, plus his regular eight hours pay, while a police officer on vacation when a holiday occurs, receives an extra 8 hours' pay.

Mayor Partney said after the meeting that he is convinced "there is not enough money in the budget to take care of the fringe benefits recommended by the negotiating committee." "I don't believe these fellows realize how much money is in on results of negotiations with the union leaders, and since the cost of fringe benefits must be in the Monday night session, Whitmer vigorously opposed acceptance of the agreements recommended by the negotiating committee until they can look into them more."

Whitmer attacked the number of holidays provided and also challenged a provision in the department agreement which he said will give the union an "unrepresentative right to select a foreman, rather than permitting the street superintendent to make his own selection."

Attacks Sick Leave

Whitmer also criticized terms of the agreement for the sewage treatment plant which he contended will remove the supervisors from the seniority list "which isn't fair" and said sick leave regulations should be changed radically "to prevent abuse by some employees." Boker replied that the council had appointed the negotiating committee "and we have negotiated in good faith. Its beginning to look like some council members have gone out and negotiated with the department officials over our head."

Whitmer asked if it was true agreements on a time and call in the union heads, it's all right with us, but I'm not attending any special meetings."

On a motion by Boker to approve the tentative agreements, Whitmer asked if it was true that before the terms of the agreements become effective they must be approved in resolution or ordinance form. He was told that it was.

"In that case, the battle lines will be drawn again," Whitmer said. Boker's motion to approve the "whole package" of union agreements was carried on a roll call vote 8 to 4, with dissenting votes cast by Aldermen Whitmer, Emerald Dewey, William Dallas and Walter Norn.

The agreements for the various city departments as approved by the council, pending presentation in resolutions or ordinances, include:
